Scope of Services

The City of Camden Department of Human Services (DHS) is seeking $100,000 from the NJ DCA LRIG program to implement a comprehensive renovation project that will improve the tennis courts at Union Mae Shultz Park and Dudley Grange Park. This initiative will revitalize two important community spaces by enhancing safety, usability, and aesthetics. The renovations will include the resurfacing of the tennis courts on the east and west sides of the city. Proposed upgrades will ensure the courts remain accessible to all residents, fostering physical activity, recreation, and community engagement well past the project's completion.

The Camden City Tennis Court Renovation Project at Union Mae Shultz and Dudley Grange Parks project will be carried out in three key phases over the course of the year. Initial activities will focus on preparatory work, including site assessments, debris clearing, and securing necessary permits. The second phase will address physical renovations of court resurfacing to ensure both facilities are safe and inviting for public use. The third and final phase will focus on conducting a final inspection to confirm the courts at each site meet quality standards. The project is scheduled for completion within 12 months, with the courts being ready for use by the community before the Summer of 2026.

The success of the project will be measured by the timely completion of renovations, adherence to the budget allocated, and community feedback. Resident voluntary satisfaction surveys and usage metrics will provide insight into the effectiveness of the improvements. Additionally, outreach efforts will promote awareness and use of the renovated courts, encouraging participation from all segments of the community, especially youth and underserved populations. DHS staff will oversee the project, collaborating with experienced and qualified contractors to ensure all work is completed efficiently and to the highest standards.

The planned renovations at Union Mae Shultz Park on the west side of Camden and Dudley Grange Park on the east side, reflect the City's commitment to equitable access to recreational opportunities across its diverse neighborhoods. These upgrades address critical needs in two distinct areas of the city, ensuring that residents from both sides have access to safe, modern, and inviting spaces for physical activity and community engagement. By investing in both locations, the City demonstrates its dedication to bridging geographic and social divides, fostering unity through shared recreational resources. These improvements will not only enhance the quality of life for residents on both sides of Camden but will also contribute to a stronger, more connected community that values equity and well-being for the entire community. The City is confident that renovations will enhance the parks' role as critical hubs for community activity and recreation.

Local Recreational Improvement 2025 AGENCY CAPACITY

DESCRIBE YOUR AGENCY'S CAPACITY TO SUCCESSFULLY EXECUTE THE PROJECT.

Camden City, located less than two miles east of Philadelphia, is a culturally and ethnically rich 8.92 square mile city in the State of New Jersey. Camden has a population of 71,791 residents and a population density of 8,048 people per square mile, compared to the statewide average of 1,263 people per square mile. Camden has a demographic breakdown that is approximately: 42.9% Black or African American, 15.7% White alone, 7.7% two or more races, and 0.5% Asian. Of this population, 52.8% identify as Hispanic or Latino. Over 16% of Camden residents identify as foreign born, and approximately 43.9% of residents over age five speak a language other than English at home. 31.6% of residents are living below the federal poverty level, which is three times higher than the statewide rate (9.7%).

The City of Camden Department of Human Services (DHS) has a proven track record of successfully managing and executing recreational improvement projects, delivering high-quality results within established timelines and budgets. In the FY24 round of the LRIG program, the City was awarded funding for critical renovations to its public pool network, a project that showcased its expertise in coordinating multiple stakeholders and maintaining effective project oversight. Camden DHS has a dedicated project team that encompasses experienced municipal staff and skilled contractors who are well-versed in managing recreational facility upgrades. The team will be led by DHS Director Dorri Brown, who oversaw the FY24 pool renovations project and brings extensive expertise in project management and community engagement. Additionally, the Director of Public Works, DHS Program Coordinator, and Grant Manager will contribute their experience to ensure the project's success. Together, this team has decades of combined knowledge in municipal government operations, grant administration, and the execution of recreational facility improvement projects. This established team structure ensures that all aspects of the project, from planning to completion, will be executed with the highest level of professionalism and accountability.

The City also has a strong commitment to community engagement, ensuring that residents are active participants in shaping recreational improvements that directly impact their neighborhoods. During the FY24 pool renovations, Camden successfully engaged local residents to gather feedback and ensure the project aligned with community needs. A similar approach will be employed for the tennis court renovations, fostering trust and transparency while ensuring the improvements reflect the needs and priorities of residents on both the east and west sides of the city. This focus on collaboration and inclusivity not only strengthens community support but also contributes to the long-term success and sustainability of projects. By building on the achievements of the FY24 pool renovation project, Camden is poised to once again provide transformative recreational improvements that enhance quality of life for its residents and contribute to the city's overall revitalization efforts.

Local Recreational Improvement 2025 PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Instructions: Summarize the project description in the space below:

The City of Camden is requesting $100,000 through the NJ DCA LRIG program to renovate tennis courts at the locations of Union Mae Shultz Park on the west side of the city and Dudley Grange Park on the east side. These renovations will include resurfacing the courts. Each location will receive $50,000 in funding to ensure equitable improvements that meet the needs of residents across Camden. The project aims to provide safe and modern recreational spaces that encourage physical activity and foster community engagement.

These upgrades are part of the City's broader commitment to revitalizing public recreation facilities, particularly in underserved neighborhoods. The improvements will benefit residents of all ages by creating inviting spaces for outdoor activities, promoting physical fitness, and enhancing the quality of life in these communities. By addressing critical maintenance and safety issues, the project will ensure that these parks remain vital community assets. The project will be overseen by DHS Director Dorri Brown, with implementation to be under the purview of the Project Team. The Project Team will include Director of Public Works Keith Walker, DHS Program Coordinator Janean Gooden, and Grant Manager Kelly Mobley. The Team will ensure the Camden City Pool Renovations Project will be completed within the 12-month timeframe, with all necessary reporting submitted to the NJ DCA.

Local Recreational Improvement 2025 PROJECT NARRATIVE

Instructions: Summarize the project narrative in the space below:

The City of Camden recognizes the benefits that tennis provides to residents, particularly in urban communities where access to safe and engaging recreational activities can be limited. Tennis promotes physical fitness, mental well-being, and social interaction while serving as an inclusive sport for people of all ages and skill levels. The renovated courts at Union Mae Shultz Park and Dudley Grange Park will provide residents with accessible spaces to enjoy these benefits, encouraging healthy lifestyles, youth engagement, and stronger community bonds. The City is committed to ensuring that these facilities are available to underserved populations, making recreation opportunities equitable and accessible across Camden.

Union Mae Shultz Park is located on the west side of the city at 1200 S Merrimac Road, next to Malandra Hall Community Center. The park is just under 22 acres and has two tennis courts. Union Mae Shultz Park is in a neighborhood with a diverse population facing economic challenges. Of the 674 houses in its block group, over 67% of households are living below the federal poverty line. Many residents are part of large, multigenerational families, and a significant portion of the population is under the age of 18. Less than a quarter mile from the park is Yorkship Elementary School, which has an enrollment of 320 students. The park serves as one of the few accessible recreational spaces for the community, making the tennis court renovations a critical investment in the well-being and development of local youth and families.

Dudley Grange Park, situated on the east side of Camden at the intersection of N. 31st Street and Federal Street, is in a similarly underserved community. It is home to just under 2,000 residents across 577 households, within its Block Group, and is home to a mix of young families and seniors. The park sits directly across from East Side High School, which has an enrollment of 593 students. Less than a block away to the park's West is the Boys and Girls Club of Camden County. To it's East, sits LUCY Outreach. By improving the tennis courts at Dudley Grange Park, the City seeks to provide residents with a safe, attractive, and functional space for exercise and community gathering, addressing a longstanding need for quality recreational facilities in this area.

Renovations of these tennis courts will undoubtedly have a transformative impact on both communities, promoting physical activity and creating opportunities for residents to connect with one another. Through this project, Camden can continue to prioritize equitable access to high-quality recreational opportunities for its residents.

Local Recreational Improvement 2025 PROJECT STATEMENT OF NEED

Instructions: Summarize the statement of need in the space below:

Camden City experienced a decline in its manufacturing and industrial sectors throughout the 20th century, leading to significant job losses and economic stagnation. Because of these factors, the city has consistently ranked among the poorest cities in the state. Of the over 70,000 residents, 31.6% are living below the federal poverty level, which is three times higher than the statewide rate (9.7%). The city has progressed in recent years, with a redoubled commitment to revitalization. A major part of the city's advancement revolves around its recreational initiatives.

The tennis courts at Union Mae Shultz Park and Dudley Grange Park have severely deteriorated over time, rendering them unsafe and less appealing for regular use by the community. Cracks in the playing surface, torn netting, and faded striping have significantly reduced the functionality and accessibility of these courts. These conditions discourage recreational use, limit opportunities for organized activities such as youth programs or tournaments and leave community members with few viable alternatives for outdoor recreation. This further exacerbates disparities in access to quality recreational facilities, particularly in neighborhoods already facing economic and social challenges.

Repairing these tennis courts will provide an essential resource for the community, allowing residents of all ages to participate in physical activity in a safe and enjoyable environment. Tennis offers numerous health and social benefits, including improved cardiovascular fitness, stress reduction, and opportunities for social interaction. The renovated courts will also create a venue for youth programs, such as lessons and clinics, helping to engage young people in positive activities that build discipline, teamwork, and confidence. Adults and seniors will benefit from a space to engage in low-impact exercise, which is crucial for maintaining mobility and overall health. By addressing these needs, the project will transform underutilized and neglected spaces into thriving hubs of community activity.

The communities surrounding Union Mae Shultz Park and Dudley Grange Park have a pressing need for improved recreational opportunities. Both neighborhoods are characterized by high rates of poverty with limited access to recreational facilities, that could lead to significant health issues. Many residents lack reliable transportation, making local facilities critical to their well-being. Renovated tennis courts will serve as accessible gathering places, fostering social cohesion and strengthening neighborhood pride. They will also encourage physical activity among residents who might otherwise remain sedentary due to a lack of safe and appealing outdoor spaces. Restoring these facilities will address a clear and urgent need, creating vibrant spaces that will be widely used and deeply valued by community members. This project represents a critical step toward promoting equitable access to recreation, enhancing quality of life, and supporting the overall revitalization of Camden's neighborhoods.

Local Recreational Improvement 2025 PROJECT SCHEDULE AND WORK PLAN

Instructions: Summarize the project schedule and work plan in the space below:

The Camden City Tennis Court Renovation Project at Union Mae Shultz and Dudley Grange Parks project will be completed within the 12-month project period. It is anticipated to begin in June 2025, with all construction and reporting to be completed by May 2026. Below is a timeline of project deliverables, given awards are issued in the Spring of this year.

- Grant Awarded Month 0
- Bidding Documents Prepared and Released Month 1
- Design Start Month 2
- Design Completed Month 4
- Construction Start Month 6

This project benefits the community by encouraging an active, healthy lifestyle and providing opportunities through investing in much needed repairs to the four tennis courts at Union Mae Shultz and Dudley Grange parks. The City is confident that this project will have an immediate benefit to community members in both the East and West sides of the City.

NJ DCA FY25 Camden City Tennis Court Renovation Project

Summary:

The FY25 Camden City Tennis Court Renovation Project is a community-driven initiative spearheaded by the City of Camden's Department of Human Services (DHS), aimed at revitalizing the tennis courts in two key recreational spaces: Union Mae Shultz Park and Dudley Grange Park. The city is seeking $100,000 in funding through the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs' Local Recreational Improvement Grant (LRIG) program, with the full amount dedicated solely to resurfacing the courts, with $50,000 allocated to each park. These courts, situated on the west and east sides of Camden respectively, have deteriorated over time due to wear and neglect, making them unsafe and uninviting for residents. Through resurfacing and related improvements, the city intends to restore the courts to a condition that promotes active lifestyles and safe recreational use for people of all ages. The goal is not just to improve physical infrastructure but also to enhance the overall well-being and quality of life for community members, particularly in underserved neighborhoods.

The project is planned over a 12-month timeline, beginning in June 2025 and ending by May 2026, with key phases that include design, bidding, construction, and final inspections. The renovation will be managed by an experienced project team led by DHS Director Dorri Brown, supported by city officials such as the Director of Public Works and the Grant Manager. Their prior success with FY24 public pool renovations shows the city's proven capacity to deliver community-based infrastructure projects on time and within budget. In addition to improving the physical space, the project includes outreach to inform and involve local residents, particularly targeting youth and underserved populations to ensure equitable access and utilization. Surveys and participation metrics will be used to gauge community satisfaction and the courts' effectiveness in fostering engagement and recreation. The city's deliberate approach reflects a broader commitment to equitable revitalization, ensuring both sides of Camden are uplifted by accessible, quality public amenities.

The need for this project is deeply rooted in Camden's ongoing revitalization efforts following decades of industrial decline. High poverty rates and limited access to recreational spaces make safe, local outdoor facilities essential to improving community health and cohesion. The neighborhoods surrounding both parks are home to large youth populations and face significant barriers to access, including transportation and income disparities. At Union Mae Shultz Park, more than two-thirds of nearby households live below the poverty line, while Dudley Grange Park sits near vital institutions like East Side High School and the Boys and Girls Club, making it a central hub for families and youth alike. By addressing deteriorated and underused courts, the project fills a pressing community need, transforming these spaces into inviting venues for physical activity, social connection, and youth development.

The tennis court renovations are part of a growing pattern of community-focused investments that emphasize health, inclusion, and neighborhood revitalization. Beyond the physical benefits, such spaces act as catalysts for positive social interaction, reducing isolation, increasing youth engagement, and providing low-barrier activities for adults and seniors alike. The project aligns with statewide goals of equitable development, leveraging public funds to generate meaningful impact at the neighborhood level.

About Thrive Communities

Thrive Communities LLC was formed with the mission of revitalizing and preserving affordable housing. The company is dedicated to transforming underutilized properties into vibrant, livable communities while maintaining affordability. Thrive Communities focuses on enhancing neighborhoods by fostering community engagement, creating local employment opportunities, and building thriving, affordable communities that promote long-term sustainability.

Founders

Moshe Drizin:

Moshe Drizin and his family have been active real estate investors and operators for over 40 years. As a privately owned, family-run company, they take a hands-on approach to managing their portfolio, remaining personally involved in every aspect of property ownership. Their commitment to maintaining and enhancing their holdings with a long-term vision is evident in their notable projects:

- Ebbets Field Housing Complex, Crown Heights, Brooklyn:
 - Originally built through the Mitchell-Lama program, a New York State affordable housing initiative, the complex was acquired in 1986 at the end of its Mitchell-Lama contract. The 1,318-unit complex was repositioned as rent-stabilized housing under New York State rent stabilization laws. The complex includes 500 parking spots and offers modestly priced apartments with a diverse tenant mix, including approximately 60 Section 8 voucher holders.
- Flatbush Patio, Brooklyn:
 - This 494-unit residential complex, featuring 165 indoor parking spots, was acquired in 2001. The Drizin family continues to actively manage the property, reinforcing their commitment to long-term investment and responsible property management.

Shneur Gopin:

Shneur Gopin focuses on creating thriving, affordable communities that foster community engagement and local employment opportunities. His notable projects reflect this commitment:

• 20 Park Street, Albany, NY:

Originally a vacant, nearly 95,000-square-foot, five-story office building, it was converted into a thriving residential community. Supported by the Impact Downtown Albany strategic plan, the project was made possible through the support of the Community Preservation Corporation and close coordination with the Capital Albany Corporation.

90 South Swan Street, Albany, NY:

This project involved the conversion of an office building into a 61-unit residential community, including three affordable live-work units. The development received a tax PILOT, was completed in strong coordination with the Industrial Development Agency (IDA), and committed to using local labor and minority-owned businesses.

Our Mission

Thrive Communities LLC is committed to providing high-quality, affordable housing options while revitalizing communities. By working closely with local agencies and stakeholders, Thrive Communities ensures that their projects meet the needs of the community, foster community engagement, create local employment opportunities, and contribute positively to the urban landscape.

Project Narrative: Camden NJ 290-Unit HAP Portfolio

OBJECTIVES

Objective Number: 1
Short Description: Camden Strong Streetscape Enhancement Project
Detailed Description
The Haddon Avenue corridor is a vital artery in Camden's urban landscape, serving as a conduit between key institutions and transit hubs. The existing infrastructure, particularly the sanitary sewer system, is outdated and insufficient to accommodate the anticipated surge in usage. The roadway's condition has deteriorated, posing safety risks and impeding efficient transportation. Additionally, the lack of adequate streetscaping detracts from the area's aesthetic appeal and friendliness'.
Methods
The construction of Cooper University Hospital Tower A is projected to significantly increase foot and automobile traffic in the area. Simultaneously, the Walter Rand Transportation Center continues to be a central hub for commuters. Enhancing the infrastructure along Haddon Avenue is essential to ensure safety, accessibility, and to promote economic development in the region.
Evaluation
The measurment of foot traffic

Camden Strong Streetscape Enhancement Project

Meeting Date:

5/13/2025

Estimated start date:

10/1/2025

Estimated completion date: 10/1/2027

Explain how this Project/Program fits into your Zone Development Plan, Municipality's Master Plan, and/or Redevelopment Plan. If it does not fit into these Plans, explain why.

As one of the largest employers in the City of Camden and a proud UEZ member, Cooper University Health Care is embarking on a transformative $3 billion upgrade to its facility. This historic investment will create space for new businesses and significantly increase foot traffic within our main UEZ corridor. Considering this unprecedented development, the City of Camden sees a unique opportunity to implement a much-needed infrastructure and beautification project. Our goal is to enhance the surrounding area, attract new businesses, and ensure the corridor is prepared to meet the demands of future growth. This UEZ corridor experiences the highest foot traffic within our boundary, drawing over 2 million people annually. It is directly responsible to 33% of that population using public transportation, and research shows that approximately 33% of visitors are actively seeking places to dine, shop, and engage locally. We believe this is the perfect moment to position our UEZ corridor as a destination for recognizable brand-name establishments looking for a home in a high-visibility, high-impact area.

Executive Summary

STUDY PURPOSE

The city of Camden is one of 32 designated Urban Enterprise Zones encompassing 37 municipalities in the State of New Jersey. The Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) Program, enacted in 1983, is an Affiliate of the Department of Community Affairs. The program's charter is to foster an economic climate that revitalizes designated urban communities and stimulates their growth by encouraging businesses to develop and create private sector jobs through public and private investment.

Camden is the process of creating its UEZ five-year development plan, and 4ward Planning, supported by FHI Studio, is providing planning and economic analysis services in support of developing the required strategic plan by the recently enacted, amended UEZ legislation. The zone development plan will set forth the official boundaries of the enterprise zone and include findings of fact concerning the economic and social conditions existing in the enterprise zone and the municipality's policy and intentions for addressing these conditions.

As illustrated below, this report presents the findings from the first two tasks in Phase 1, the Urban Enterprise Zone Profile and Market Analysis.

KEY FINDINGS

The following Camden UEZ profile findings will serve as a baseline for future profiles, allowing municipal staff to evaluate how industry conditions within the UEZ district evolve in the near term, while market study findings will help frame existing economic and social conditions for potential UEZ policies.

Camden UEZ Profile

Camden UEZ Businesses

- According to business data provided by the City of Camden's UEZ Coordinator, there are 840 businesses in the city, with 205 of these businesses UEZ members (24 percent of all businesses in the city).
- The retail trade sector represents the top industry by number of UEZ businesses (42 businesses), followed by the real estate and rental and leasing; other services (excluding public administration); manufacturing; and professional, scientific, and technical services sectors.

Commercial and Industrial Parcels

- Ninety-three percent of the city's commercial parcels are located in the UEZ boundary (1,885 parcels). These commercial parcels have a total net assessed value of $356.9 million (95.3 percent of that in the city).
- Ninety-seven percent of the city's industrial parcels (113 parcels) are located in the UEZ boundary. These industrial parcels have a total net assessed value of $403.5 million (99.9 percent of that in the city).

Market Analysis

Socio-Economic

- While demand for new goods and services will remain generally flat in the city, due to relatively flat projected near-term population and household growth, demand will be stronger in neighborhoods like Centerville and Cooper Point, which are expected to experience relatively robust near-term household growth (2.4 and 1.1 percent per year, respectively, through 2029).
- Compared to the two-county region (includes Camden and Philadelphia Counties), the city is relatively young, with residents between ages 15 and 24 representing the largest age cohort by population (16 percent) and the segment most likely to drive near-term land-use demand. Some portion of this age-cohort are students and professionals at educational and medical institutions located in the city.
- Due to discretionary household spending on non-essential items, such as dining, recreation, and entertainment, business expansion or creation in the city will be most attractive in neighborhoods with relatively high household incomes like the Beideman, Cooper Grant/Waterfront, and Pyne Point but more challenging in neighborhoods with relatively low income and high poverty levels like Bergen Square or Centerville.

- Notwithstanding the higher educational institutions present in the city of Camden, educational attainment and household income levels in the city are relatively low compared to those in the region, while the share of households below the poverty level is relatively high. For example, 28 percent of the adult population ages 25 and older in the city do not have a high school diploma, the median household income in the city ($36,684) is 57 percent of the median household income in the region, and 33 percent of city households are below the poverty level.
- Out of New Jersey's 564 municipalities, the city of Camden tops the list of the Municipal Revitalization Index (the State's official measure and ranking of municipal distress) with a score of 100.
- Like the region, the city's housing stock is primarily composed of single-family housing (68 percent).
 In contrast to the larger region, housing in the city is predominately renter-occupied (64 percent), while housing in the region is predominately owner-occupied (53 percent).
- The city's housing vacancy rate is relatively high (11 percent) due to a high share of vacant units identified as "other vacant" units, which likely indicates abandoned or distressed residential properties.

Labor and Industry

- There are approximately 34,570 total full- and part-time jobs in the city of Camden, with these jobs largely clustered in the Lanning Square and Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhoods (representing 67 percent of total jobs, combined) and reflective of the many large employers, including government, healthcare, higher-education, and corporate offices.
- The health care and social assistance sector is the top industry by both total job share and primary job share, representing nearly 37 percent of total jobs in the city. The next top sectors by employment share are the educational services and public administration sectors (24 percent of total jobs, combined).
- Both the city and the region have seen significant employment changes over the past two decades, which has likely required workers to shift jobs and acquire new skills. For example, the health care and social assistance sector, a sector providing relatively mid-wage job opportunities (an average annual wage of $70,068), grew by 2,807 primary jobs from 2002 to 2021.
- In 2021, 28,961 primary workers commuted into the city for work, with 4,863 primary workers commuting more than 25 miles into the city for work.

Supply and Demand Market Analysis

Largely due to existing pent-up demand from primary workers commuting into the city, there will be an estimated net demand for approximately 1,280 residential units in the city by 2029, absent any new housing construction beyond what is currently in the development pipeline, which includes housing projects being considered, planned and currently under construction.

Community Engagement

A comprehensive community engagement effort was conducted to gather input from key stakeholders, including UEZ businesses, non-UEZ businesses, city employees, residents, and community organizations. The following key takeaways are elaborated upon later in this document.

- Improved communication and marketing efforts to raise awareness of the UEZ Program and benefits of membership among existing and prospective UEZ businesses is essential to the program's success. Direct communication and regular outreach will help increase the number of businesses within the program and ensure businesses feel supported and involved in the program. Additionally, creating partnerships with existing non-profit business development organizations operating in Camden would also strengthen the current program.
- Facilitating access to and assistance in navigating financing programs and grant applications wellsuited to the challenges faced by small and micro-businesses is an important step in fortifying the diversity and health of Camden's business community.
- Regularly updating the UEZ website and business directory will ensure that business information is current and accurate, allowing for effective communication and outreach. The directory should be prominently linked or listed on the website and consistently featured in social media posts and other communications to maintain visibility and ensure businesses are properly contacted.
- Effective social media engagement is crucial to ensure that the right audience sees and benefits from the UEZ Program's posts, fostering meaningful interactions and increasing visibility among key stakeholders and local businesses.
- Increasing awareness and promoting the "Buy Camden, Hire Camden" initiative among residents, schools, and families will encourage local spending and hiring, strengthening the community's support for Camden-based businesses.
- The establishment of a board of Camden UEZ businesses and City agencies would provide a dedicated space and time for businesses to regularly communicate with the program, centralize their needs and desires, and ensure alignment with the five-year strategic plan. This board would also serve as a key platform for the City to disseminate important information, such as infrastructure projects, changes, road closures, and other updates of which businesses in Camden may not currently be notified.

UEZ Projects and Economic and Employment Impacts

In 2023, the Camden UEZ program implemented eight different programs that were modeled to better understand the economic impact of Camden UEZ investment. The following presents the economic impacts of UEZ Program Investment:

Economic Impact

- In 2023, approximately $1.9 million in Camden UEZ investment supported 614 total jobs and generated $1.6 million in labor income, $2.4 million in value added, and $4.0 million in output in Camden County.
- Including an additional $921,690 in American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding leveraged by UEZ investment (Façade Program) in 2023, the $2.8 million in combined investment supported 617 jobs and generated $1.9 million in labor income, $2.8 million in value added, and $4.7 million in output in Camden County.

Zoning and Transportation

Zoning

The following are recommended to support redevelopment and infill in Camden's UEZ:

- Expand the C-1 Zone Along Broadway: Expand the C-1 zone along Broadway, extending from the existing zone at Walnut Street to the Center City zone at Pine Street.
- Expand the C-1 Zone Along Mount Ephrain Avenue: Expand the C-1 zone along Mount Ephrain Avenue, between Whitman Avenue and Atlantic Avenue.
- Consider Reducing Off-Street Parking Requirement: The City should consider reducing its off-street parking requirement for all uses within the UEZ, with emphasis on commercial uses. We recommend a 20 percent reduction.
- Include a Transit Station Reduction: The City should include a transit station reduction of 20 percent for properties located within a one-half mile walking distance of a light rail or commuter rail station, including both PATCO and River LINE stations and future stations on the planned Glassboro-Camden Line.
- Maintain Existing Transit Stop Reduction: The City should maintain the existing 20 percent transit stop reduction on top of the 20 percent reduction recommended in the UEZ.

Transportation

With a focus on improvements that will be most beneficial to businesses in the Camden UEZ, we recommend the following transportation improvements:

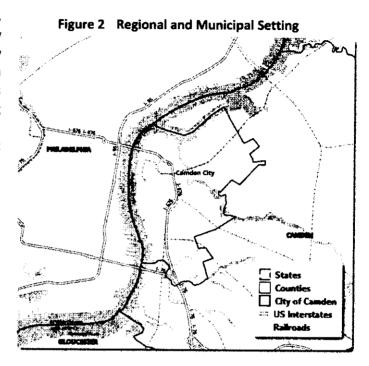

- WRTC Improvement Project: The City should fully support implementation of the WRTC Improvement Project and related co-developments.
- Glassboro-Camden Line: The City should fully support implementation of the Glassboro-Camden Line and provide necessary infrastructure improvements in planned station areas with emphasis on pedestrian and bicycle facility enhancements.
- Bus Stop Enhancements: The City should enhance bus stops along commercial corridors in the UEZ with better lighting, signage, route information, shelters, and security measures.
- Sidewalk and Roadway Crossing Enhancements: The City should improve sidewalks and pedestrian roadway crossings with emphasis on commercial corridors within the UEZ, with priority given to segments that lack sidewalks on both or one side of the roadway.
- Improve and Expand Bicycle Facilities: The City should improve and expand bicycle facilities as recommended by the 2022 Walk & Bike Camden! Plan. Bicycling is a form of transportation used by workers to commute to work and by patrons of establishments for travel to those establishments.
 The improvement of conditions for bicyclists by expanding the bicycle facility network, both on- and off-street, will be beneficial to businesses in the UEZ.
- Market Street and Federal Street Conversion: The City should support and facilitate the conversion of Market Street and Federal Street to two-way traffic as a means of calming traffic, improving business access and visibility, and improving conditions for pedestrians and bicyclists.
- Improve Lighting and Wayfinding: The City should assess lighting conditions along public streets in the UEZ, with an emphasis on commercial areas. Based upon the findings of an assessment, the City should upgrade lighting as needed to improve security and perception of safety in the UEZ. The City should also improve wayfinding across the UEZ, building upon successful examples downtown.
 Emphasis should be placed on upgrading and installing wayfinding signage in proximity to rail stations.
- Improve Roadway Maintenance: The City should conduct a roadway pavement condition survey of roadways across the city. A pavement restoration schedule and capital funding to support pavement restoration should be developed, with priority given to arterial and collector streets in the UEZ that have poor pavement conditions.
- Continue Improvements to Commercial Corridors: The City should continue collaboration with the County and State to improve its commercial corridors consistent with improvements currently underway and planned for Haddon Avenue.

Camden UEZ Profile

Regional and Municipal Setting

Located in Camden County, New Jersey, the city of Camden is situated directly across the Delaware River from the city of Philadelphia, located in Philadelphia County, Pennsylvania. Camden has significant transportation links including access to highways (I-676, U.S 130 and U.S. 30), heavy-, commuter- and light rail, and the Delaware River, giving it a strategic position for goods transportation in the larger Philadelphia metropolitan area.

As illustrated in Figure 4, and identified by census tract boundaries, the city of Camden has 19 neighborhoods. While 12 neighborhoods have more than half of their neighborhood boundaries within the UEZ boundary, some have just a small share of acreage within the UEZ boundary (five percent in Stockton and eight percent in Parkside).

Camden UEZ Businesses

Based on data provided by the City of Camden's Department of Community Affairs, 4ward Planning created a profile of the UEZ district down to the neighborhood level. This profile will also serve as a baseline for future Camden UEZ profiles, allowing municipal staff to evaluate how industry conditions within the UEZ district have evolved over each future five-year period.

UEZ Businesses Members as Share of Total Businesses

According to business data provided by the City of Camden's UEZ Coordinator, there are 840 businesses in the City, with 205 of these businesses UEZ members (24 percent of all businesses in the city). The share of UEZ business members is highest in the Parkside neighborhood (70 percent) and lowest in the Stockton neighborhood (four percent).

Real Estate Ratable Values in the UEZ

According to real estate parcel data provided by the Camden County Board of Assessors, 93 percent of the city of Camden's commercial parcels (1,885 parcels) and 97 percent of industrial parcels (113 parcels) are located in the UEZ boundary. Commercial parcels in the UEZ boundary have a total net assessed value of $356.9 million (representing 95.3 percent total commercial parcel value in the city) and industrial parcels have a total net assessed value of $403.5 million (representing 99.9 percent of the city's total industrial real estate assessed value). Given the relatively high percentage of commercial and industrial parcels captured by the UEZ boundary area, only a modest change to boundary would be required to capture 100 percent of commercial and industrial parcels. This potential action is further evaluated in a later stage of this report.

Market Analysis

4ward Planning performed a market analysis for the city of Camden, down to the neighborhood level and, for purposes of comparison, the two-county Camden-Philadelphia region (two-county region). The socio-economic trends analysis examines metrics for population, households, real estate, and labor and industry. Socio-economic trends are measured over time (2010, 2024 (estimated), and 2029 (projected)).

SOCIO-ECONOMIC ANALYSIS

Population and Households

The size and growth of a city's population influences markets, as households drive demand for goods, services, housing, and labor. Cities gaining new people and households, particularly if growing rapidly, are more attractive markets than areas where population and households are flat or in decline. According to Esri, a private firm that compiles socio-economic census data, absent significant investment, the city is expected to experience relatively flat population growth through 2029 (with the city losing approximately 500 residents but gaining 370 new households over this period; this is possible as one or more residents in existing households will leave to create new households). Likewise, the larger two-county region is expected to experience relatively flat population and household growth through 2029 (with the region gaining approximately 1,970 residents and 22,350 households over this period). While the city and region are expected to experience relatively flat population and household growth through 2029, the Centerville and Cooper Point neighborhoods are expected to experience strong growth through 2029 (increasing by 2.4 and 1.1 percent per year, respectively).

Age Distribution and Median Age

The population living in the city of Camden is relatively young (median age of 33 years), compared to the population living in the two-county region (median age of 36 years). Residents between ages 15 and 24 (representing high school and college-age persons) are the largest age cohort in the city (16 percent), which is partially due to the presence of Rutgers and Rowan Universities in the Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhood and their large student bodies. Median age also varies by neighborhood, with the population living in the Centerville, Cramer Hill, and Morgan Village neighborhoods being relatively young (median age of 30 years), while the population living in the Pyne Point neighborhood is older (median age of 37 years). Consumers between ages 35 and 54 represent the strongest market for most retailers, as they are typically established in their careers and their expenditures support family needs and lifestyle wants.

Educational Attainment

Educational attainment levels in the city of Camden are relatively low compared to those in the two-county region. For example, 28 percent of the adult population ages 25 and older in the city do not have a high school diploma, compared to 11 percent in the region. In the Cramer Hill neighborhood, the majority of adults do not have a high school diploma (56 percent). Likely due to the presence of Rutgers and Rowan Universities, as well as the nearby healthcare institutions, the Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhood has the highest share of adults with a bachelor's degree or higher (29 percent).

Household Income

Household income levels are also relatively low in the city and strongly correlated with lower educational attainment levels. The median household income in the city of Camden ($36,684) is 57 percent of the median household income observed in the two-county region ($63,837). Median household income also varies by neighborhood, with the Bergen Square neighborhood having extremely low median household income ($12,904), and the Beideman neighborhood having a relatively high median household income ($58,533).

Households with lower incomes typically also exhibit lower discretionary spending on non-essential items, such as dining, recreation, and entertainment ~ which could limit the expansion of existing local businesses or the establishment of new businesses in these neighborhoods.

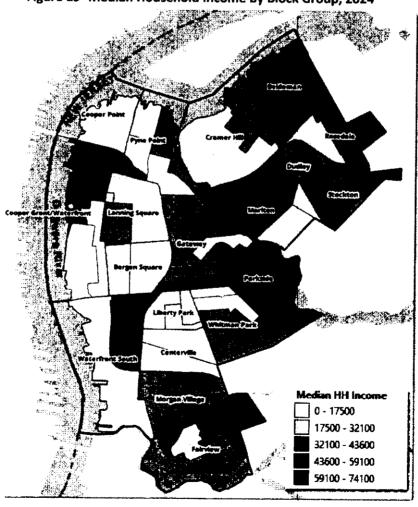

Employment training and remedial education programs are the most likely paths to raising household income levels in neighborhoods such as Bergen Square in the near term.

Municipal Revitalization Index

Formerly known as the Municipal Distress Index (MDI), the Municipal Revitalization Index (MRI) serves as the State's official measure and ranking of municipal distress. The MRI ranks New Jersey's municipalities according to eight separate indicators that measure diverse aspects of social, economic, physical, and fiscal conditions in each locality. The MRI is used as a factor in distributing certain "need-based" funds. As presented in the map to right and the table on the following page, out of New Jersey's 564 municipalities, Camden tops the list of the MRI with a ranking of one, followed closely by Salem and Penns Groove in Salem County.

Poverty

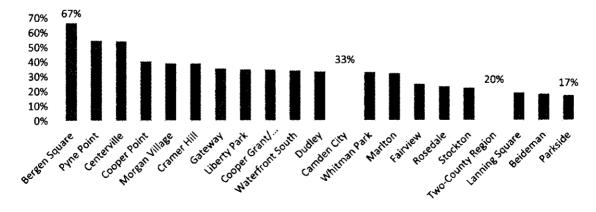

In 2022, one out of every three households in the city of Camden were below the poverty level (33 percent), compared to just one out of every five households in the two-county region (20 percent). The Bergen Square neighborhood had the highest share of households below the poverty level (67 percent), while the Parkside neighborhood had the lowest share (17 percent).

Housing Characteristics

Total Housing

In 2024, the city of Camden had just under 28,000 housing units, with the Fairview and Whitman Park representing the neighborhoods having the greatest shares of the city's housing stock (each representing nine percent) and the Waterfront South and Cooper Point neighborhoods having the lowest shares (each representing two percent).

Housing Stock

While single-family homes make up the majority of homes in the city (68 percent), some neighborhoods have a much greater diversity of housing types. For example, the Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhood has a high share of units in high-density, multifamily buildings (58 percent), due to the attractiveness of the nearby waterfront and closely located healthcare and higher-educational institutions.

Housing Tenure

In contrast to the larger two-county region, where a slight majority of housing stock is owner-occupied (53 percent), most housing in the city is renter-occupied (64 percent). Notably, the Beideman neighborhood has the highest share of owner-occupied housing (55 percent), while the Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhood has the highest share of renter-occupied housing (87 percent) and is reflective of the multi-family development projects developed in the neighborhood over the past 20 years.

Housing Vacancy

In general, a natural vacancy rate of between four and seven percent is an indicator of balanced supply and demand in a housing market, as some vacancies allow for normal housing turnover. While the overall housing vacancy rate in the city of Camden (11 percent) is higher than the natural range, it varies widely by neighborhood. The housing vacancy rate is as low as six percent in the Rosedale and Beideman neighborhoods, and it reaches as high as 27 percent in the Waterfront South neighborhood. A large share of vacant units identified as "other vacant" in many of the city's neighborhoods likely indicates a sizeable number of abandoned or distressed residential properties, which is evident in field observations.

While not often thought of as being part of an economic development strategy, adequate and affordable housing is necessary to any economy, small or large, to support workers needing to be near to their places of employment and reduce labor cost pressures that are experienced by employers when there is an inadequate supply of housing.

Total Jobs

According to 2021 job data provided by the U.S. Census Bureau (the latest year available), there are approximately 34,570 full- and part-time jobs in the city of Camden, largely clustered in the Lanning Square and Cooper Grant/Waterfront neighborhoods (representing 61 percent of total jobs, combined). The health care and social assistance sector is the top industry by employment share, representing nearly 37 percent of total jobs in the city. The next top sectors by employment share are the educational services and public administration sectors (representing 23 percent of total jobs, combined).

Unemployment

According to data provided by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), and as of July 2024, the city of Camden had an unemployment rate of 5.4 percent, lower than that in Camden County (5.9 percent) but slightly higher than that in Philadelphia County (5.1 percent). While the unemployment rate is relatively low, it is higher than it was in July 2022 (4.2 percent) and is within the range of what economists refer to as a natural unemployment rate — a long-term stabilized unemployment rate which is viewed as healthy.

Workforce Characteristics

While an individual may have more than one job, the U.S. Census defines a primary job as a person's dominant job, or the job earning an individual the most money — with the number of primary job workers representing the size of the local workforce — meaning, the number of workers is counted, not the number of jobs.

According to 2021 data provided by the U.S. Census Bureau (the latest year available), there were 32,500 primary job workers in the city. The city's top sector by primary job employment, the health care and social assistance sector represents 36 percent of all primary jobs in the city (compared to just 24 percent in the two-county region). This sector, which principally provides mid-wage job opportunities (an average annual wage of $70,068 in Camden County as of third-quarter 2023), has been experiencing significant job growth over the past two decades in the city. For example, from 2002 to 2021, the city's health care and social assistance sector grew by 2,807 jobs. Conversely, the city's next two top sectors by employment (the educational services and the public administration sectors) saw job losses over the same period (losing 1,955 and 1,349 jobs, respectively, from 2002 to 2021).

Other notable solid-wage industries in Camden which experienced employment loss over the 2002 to 2021 period (see Figure 25) include the manufacturing, transportation and warehousing, and wholesale trade.

Commuting Workers

In 2021, 28,961 primary workers commuted into the city for work, and 19,094 residents commuted outside the city for work. With 4,863 primary workers commuting more than 25 miles into the city for work, there is likely pent-up housing demand from commuting workers (as much as three-percent of these long-distance commuters), who may trade a long commute if quality housing were available in the city.

Supply and Demand Market Analysis

Methodology and Assumptions

4ward Planning conducted a supply/demand analysis, illuminating potential near-term residential demand within the city of Camden by 2029. The following summarizes the analysis assumptions:

- By 2029, Esri projects the number of households in the city will increase by approximately 370 households (0.3 percent per year).
- Esri expects that the number of housing units in the city will increase by approximately 310 over the next five years (0.2 percent per year); this projection is considered conservative.
- Esri data projects that the housing vacancy rate in the city will be 11.2 percent by 2029. It is assumed the city will maintain a natural average annual housing vacancy rate of five percent, allowing for housing turnover. It is assumed the remaining vacant housing within the city (6.2 percent) is vacant due to physical obsolescence.
- A small portion (one percent) of the remaining housing stock becomes obsolete annually.
- Based on 2021 primary worker data provided by the U.S. Census Bureau and average 2022 to 2032 industry employment growth rate projections provided by the New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry for Camden County, the number of primary workers in the city is expected to increase by 920 from 2024 to 2029 (0.6 percent per year).
- Currently, 89 percent of primary workers commute from outside the city. It is assumed that five of every 100 one-mile-radius area workers would trade their commute if adequate housing were available in the city.

Near-Term Housing Demand

Largely due to existing pent-up demand from primary workers who commute into the city, by 2029, there will be an estimated net demand for approximately 1,280 residential units in the city.

Community Engagement

Introduction

As part of the Camden Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) Five-Year Strategic Plan, a comprehensive community engagement effort was conducted to gather input from key stakeholders, including UEZ businesses, non-UEZ businesses, city employees, residents, and community organizations to ensure the plan reflects the needs and challenges of Camden stakeholders.

Community engagement was central to this process, serving as a foundation for developing informed, actionable recommendations that align with local priorities and opportunities. The engagement strategy included three focus groups, four UEZ in-person business interviews, and an in-person business outreach event. Summaries of each activity and the insights gained are detailed below.

Focus Groups

FHI Studio, in collaboration with 4ward Planning, conducted a series of virtual focus groups to gather diverse input on the future of the UEZ. This outreach effort ensured comprehensive representation by engaging three key stakeholder groups: UEZ and non-UEZ businesses in Camden, city and agency employees, and neighborhood groups and associations. The virtual format made it easier for participants to attend and allowed for the collection of a wider range of perspectives.

Stakeholder Identification and Outreach

Stakeholders were carefully identified for each focus group based on their relevance and roles within the community. The lists of invited stakeholders can be found in Appendix A.

UEZ and Non-UEZ Businesses Focus Group

A targeted list of stakeholders for the business focus group was developed with input from Joe Thomas, UEZ Coordinator, and Dr. Ed Williams, Director of the Department of Planning and Development. Key businesses were selected and cross-referenced with a broader set of over 200 UEZ businesses. Additional businesses from the UEZ Program were included to ensure a variety of business types and representation from essential private businesses with significant roles in the Camden community.

City and Agency Focus Group

The city and agency focus group targeted participants from key city agencies and departments, initially identified by the UEZ Coordinator. The list was expanded through a comprehensive Google search to include other stakeholders with direct or indirect involvement in the UEZ. This ensured representation from a broad range of governmental and institutional perspectives, reflecting the diverse interests that influence the UEZ's future.

Neighborhood Groups and Associations Focus Group

Participants for the neighborhood associations focus group were identified by reviewing the Camden Redevelopment Agency's Neighborhood Plans, which highlighted key community groups. Additional neighborhood groups were located through an extensive Google search, ensuring the inclusion of grassroots and community-level perspectives crucial for understanding neighborhood-specific concerns and aspirations.

For each focus group, two Microsoft Teams meeting invitations were sent on November 20, 2024: one for the preferred meeting date, and another for an alternative meeting (in case invitees could not join the first meeting date). Invitations outlined the event's purpose and logistics, and a follow-up email on November 26, 2024, was sent as a reminder and to encourage participation.

To accommodate the availability of different stakeholder groups, the team carefully selected meeting times in early December 2024. City and agency participants were scheduled during regular business hours, while businesses and neighborhood associations were scheduled after standard working hours to ensure accessibility. Any stakeholder who indicated they were unable to attend the scheduled focus groups but expressed interest in participating was contacted individually. These stakeholders were provided with alternative options to provide their input, including opportunities to submit written feedback. This personalized approach ensured all interested stakeholders had a chance to share their perspectives.

Stakeholder Feedback

Of the stakeholders invited to participate in the focus groups, a total of nine individuals participated, the list of which can be found in Appendix A. The Focus Group Discussion Guide is included in Appendix C.

Familiarity with the UEZ Program

All four business stakeholders in the focus group were existing members of the UEZ Program and familiar with its goals and benefits. They found joining the program simple, but applying and receiving benefits was complicated and time-consuming due to extensive paperwork. However, assistance from program administrators like Osiris Jackson, Joe Thomas, and Saint Joseph's Carpenter Society (SJCS) helped ease the process. Two business stakeholders participated in the façade program, one's landlord denied improvements, and a new business had not yet participated. One of the façade program participants also received a grant for a Small Business Hub. Despite the complicated process, business stakeholders valued the UEZ Program's funding and found it beneficial. However, participants noted the need for a more streamlined process and praised the Small Business Hub for effectively consolidating resources, suggesting it be replicated.

The focus groups also included representatives from the Camden Department of Planning and Development, which oversees the UEZ Program, and the Camden Redevelopment Agency. The Department representative primarily attended to listen, as the program falls under their purview. The participant representing the Camden Redevelopment Agency had direct experience working with the UEZ coordinator, mainly referring businesses to the program or coordinating specific projects. They appreciated the program's grants and resources, noting that at least six businesses received UEZ funds in the past year and expressed a desire for continued success.

One of the participating community organizations, the Camden Special Services District (CSSD), provided an overview of its work and goals. Established in 2005, CSSD initially focused on landscaping, cleanliness, and safety through their Clean and Safe Ambassadors Program, which employs Camden residents. In 2019, it expanded to include economic development and placemaking initiatives in downtown Camden, specifically within the Camden Business Improvement District (BID), which spans from Clinton Street to Elm Street and from the Cooper River to the Delaware River. Their services, including fee-for-service cleaning outside the BID, have visibly improved the area with cleaner streets and consistent holiday decorations. However, areas like East Federal Street, outside the BID, do not receive these services.

While CSSD has had limited direct involvement with the Camden UEZ, they are interested in potential partnerships, such as aligning façade improvement grants for matching funds, joint public relations efforts, and expanding BID-like services to areas outside the BID. CSSD emphasized the importance of demonstrating the value of BID-like programs to gain business support. They also see the potential for collaboration with local CDCs and the Camden UEZ to recruit businesses and enhance Camden's economic development. The original intent for the BID was to create a replicable model for other city corridors - perfecting the model in downtown Camden and then applying it to other areas. CSSD can support this by helping the UEZ Program with communication with businesses, offering a potential partnership opportunity.

Participation in UEZ Program

Business and neighborhood association stakeholders in the focus group noted low participation in the UEZ Program due to insufficient and ineffective outreach. They recommended:

- Increased direct communication with businesses from the UEZ Coordinator.
- Increased promotion and marketing of local businesses using more effective tactics.
 - Keep the UEZ business directory updated so that it remains relevant compared to the Camden First directory, which has significant traction.
- Automatic UEZ Program sign-up opportunities during construction or business license applications and renewals.
- The creation of a business committee for regular communication with businesses and to monitor the implementation of the UEZ Five-year Strategic Plan.
- Exploration in partnerships with schools, nonprofits, and larger companies to both promote businesses and provide resources.

Challenges Camden Businesses Face

Business stakeholders identified Camden's lower median income as a barrier but noted the city's ongoing transformation makes it an ideal time to open a business. One owner, serving mainly local customers, observed increased post-pandemic foot traffic by more residents and some out-of-town visitors. Participants also highlighted challenges such as limited access to capital, strategic marketing issues, and a lack of business variety. Many small, "mom and pop" businesses are opening, but there is duplication of business types. They emphasized the need for more essential services, such as grocery stores, healthier food options, and businesses offering basic amenities like shoe repair, clothing cleaning, and toiletries.

City agency participants noted the shortage of large, publicly owned properties for development. While smaller parcels are abundant, large-scale economic projects face significant challenges due to limited space. They also emphasized the need for more essential services, noting that having duplicates, such as cleaners and grocery stores, can be important to meet community demand.

Neighborhood association stakeholders identified key actions Camden should take to overcome some existing challenges including:

- Establishing a strong brand for neighborhoods, particularly those like River Road and Federal Street, which have a rich Hispanic food culture. This branding should leverage the unique offerings of ethnic neighborhoods.
- Dedicating resources to work directly with businesses to attract visitors from neighboring towns, such as Cherry Hill, to reduce their reliance on Philadelphia.
- Developing downtown as a daily destination by introducing essential services, like a pharmacy, grocery store, and pet supply store, to encourage foot traffic and make the area more walkable.

Regarding available business spaces, the CSSD plans to map existing spaces to identify locations suitable for specific businesses, such as restaurants. However, challenges exist as many business owners are reluctant to sell unless offered a specific price. While many historical buildings are beautiful, they require significant investment, with which the City/UEZ could assist; however, a project sponsor would be needed to lead those efforts. The CSSD regularly engages with businesses and can help connect them to UEZ funding for façade improvements or building acquisitions. However, better communication about UEZ Program benefits, especially regarding property acquisition, is needed.

Looking ahead to the challenges businesses may face in the next five years, business stakeholders identified:

- The need for increased police presence to address public safety perceptions.
- Concerns over cleanliness, safety, parking, and road maintenance, with a call for more public transportation options.
- Parking issues, particularly during events, and a suggestion for more parking lots instead of street parking.
- Making Market Street a two-way street to benefit businesses.
- Promoting the "Buy Camden, Hire Camden" initiative to raise awareness among residents, schools, and families.
- Assigning case workers to guide new businesses through processes.
- Increased marketing of small businesses, especially to attract tourists.
- Increased marketing to attract new business types.
- Overcoming outdated stereotypes of Camden as a dangerous city.
- Balancing the importance of storefronts with the rise of online shopping while maintaining a community presence.
- Rising costs and inflation affecting profitability and customer spending.
- The need for more foot traffic and greater support from the City for obtaining state liquor licenses and leveraging local tax incentives to empower young entrepreneurs.
- On staffing, businesses found it easy to hire nearby college students but noted challenges in filling skill-specific roles. They expressed concerns about the new generation's mindset, with some noting issues like "quiet quitting" and a lack of motivation.

Camden Workforce

City agency participants highlighted a mismatch between the jobs being created in Camden and the skill sets of local residents. Many residents are either underqualified or overqualified for available positions, while new businesses often bring their own established workforces, reducing their reliance on local talent.

Zoning

Regarding zoning, participants identified several challenges:

- The requirement for a health inspection to obtain a business license, which cannot be done until construction is finished, delays grant and loan applications for the Façade Improvement Program, which stakeholders reported requires businesses to be fully licensed.
- Zoning and regulatory processes are confusing and outdated, often requiring special exemptions for certain activities (e.g., outdoor vending).
 - Liquor licenses are a significant barrier to attracting more bars and restaurants, as businesses must wait for an available license, and the limited supply makes licenses expensive. It was acknowledged that this is a state licensing issue. However, the City's BYOB policy is viewed as a successful proof of concept and a step in the right direction for supporting local businesses.
- Limited space for new businesses.
- Vacant land.

Transportation

Business stakeholders recommended converting Market Street to a two-way operation, though they felt the overall transportation infrastructure was adequate. They also praised the well-maintained Haddon Avenue area, despite the busy intersection, while emphasizing the ongoing need for upgrades to streets, lighting, security, and waste management.

City agency participants acknowledged improvements to Camden's transportation infrastructure over the past five years, addressing some connectivity challenges. However, gaps remain in connectivity to the broader region.

Neighborhood association stakeholders noted mixed conditions for transportation. While the CSSD has helped with maintenance, they believe the City could do more. The focus should be on improving the pedestrian experience, especially on Market Street, a key corridor. Issues such as too many institutional buildings with defensive architecture, large stretches of road surrounded by parking lots, and low walkability in the downtown area were highlighted. CSSD emphasized the need for pedestrian-friendly infrastructure, such as bump-outs, especially in areas where higher-speed roads need reconfiguration. They also mentioned the Market Street project, stating that although this project has been paused, businesses that support the project believe it will contribute to a livelier and more walkable environment.

In-Person Business Interviews

In-person interviews were conducted on Thursday, December 5, 2024, from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM, with business owners already participating in the UEZ Program at their establishments in Camden. These interviews gathered feedback on the UEZ Program and identified challenges related to zoning, infrastructure, and communication that businesses face. The interviews were scheduled over a four-hour period during a regular business day to ensure accessibility for participants.

Stakeholder Identification and Outreach

A targeted list of businesses for in-person interviews was developed by prioritizing key stakeholders identified by the UEZ Coordinator. This list was cross-referenced with a broader set of over 200 UEZ businesses listed in the UEZ Program, resulting in the selection of seven businesses in the downtown area and five businesses in the eastern part of the UEZ. Businesses in each area were chosen to be within walking distance of one another to streamline scheduling and maximize efficiency during the four-hour interview period. The lists of invited stakeholders can be found in the Appendix.

The downtown and eastern zones were strategically selected to ensure geographic representation across the UEZ. This approach balanced convenience and inclusiveness, allowing the outreach team to engage a diverse range of businesses and gather varied perspectives.

Initial emails were sent to the identified businesses on November 19, 2024, outlining the purpose of the interviews and providing logistical details. Follow-up emails were sent on November 26, 2024, to encourage responses from businesses that had not replied to the initial outreach. Personalized responses were provided to businesses that shared specific availability or requested special accommodations such as Spanish language interpretation.

Every effort was made to accommodate the schedules and needs of participating businesses. Three businesses indicated their interest in participating; however, due to scheduling constraints the project team was only able to visit two businesses on the scheduled day. Follow-up emails were sent to any business that the team was unable to visit; emails included an invitation to the business outreach event (described below) and a survey businesses could use to share feedback if they could not attend the event. The UEZ businesses that participated in the interviews are listed in the Appendix.

Stakeholder Feedback

In-person interview participants had varied experiences with the UEZ. Some businesses had long-standing relationships with the program and were well-versed in its benefits, having utilized at least one of its programs, while other businesses had limited or no familiarity with the program.

Participants familiar with the UEZ noted that:

- The UEZ Program has done a very good job communicating with them about the program and what it has to offer. They appreciate direct, personal communication.
- The UEZ Program has been particularly active in the last few years.
- They appreciated the funding that was provided and the fact that the funding was generally easy to access and/or UEZ Program was able to help them apply for it.

- They did not feel that the sales tax break was making a big difference in attracting customers, but also did not want to see it eliminated.
- Businesses outside the CSSD appreciated the efforts by the UEZ Program to provide services (e.g., street cleaning) that the City could not provide.

In-person interview participants made several suggestions for improving the UEZ, including:

- Providing Clear Information on UEZ Benefits and Programs: There was a request for clear communication about all benefits and programs the UEZ offers.
- Supporting Interior Improvements: Participants suggested that the UEZ extend support to interior improvements, in addition to exterior improvements.
- Providing Information on Additional Benefits and Programs: Participants want a comprehensive guide to all available opportunities, including those outside of the UEZ, as many existing city services and programs are unclear.
- Facilitating Communication between Business and the City: Participants find it difficult to identify who administers various programs and services in Camden. They recommended that the UEZ assist in navigating the different departments, provide access to information, and facilitate meetings with City officials.
- Strengthening Collaboration with Other Community Groups: It was suggested that the UEZ work closely with its partners, especially the CSSD.
- Facilitating Partnerships: It was suggested the UEZ help smaller businesses form partnerships with larger local institutions and businesses to access their resources.
- Hosting Regular Business Meetings: Regular meetings with UEZ businesses, including representatives from other City agencies, were recommended.
- Offering Business Development Support: Participants expressed a need for assistance with strategic planning, connecting to lenders, understanding long-term programs, and accessing funding. They suggested seminars or direct support from the UEZ.
- Providing Assistance and Training with Approvals and Permits: Participants noted difficulty navigating approvals and permits (e.g., zoning) and suggested that the UEZ offer assistance in these areas.
- Promoting Business-to-Business Buy Local: While the UEZ has supported "buy local" efforts, participants recommended promoting business-to-business buying to foster a local business community.

Business Outreach Event

An in-person business outreach event was hosted to engage directly with business owners in Camden. Held on December 11, 2024, from 5:00 PM to 7:00 PM at Nuanced Café, this event aimed to foster meaningful dialogue and gather insights into the specific needs, challenges, and aspirations of local businesses. The event served as an opportunity to build relationships, address concerns, and collect feedback that will inform actionable strategies tailored to support Camden's diverse business community.

Stakeholder Identification and Outreach

To ensure broad participation in the Business Outreach Event, a comprehensive list of over 200 businesses registered under the UEZ Program, provided by the UEZ Coordinator, served as the foundation for outreach efforts and was supplemented with additional business stakeholders previously identified through the engagement process.

An email blast was sent to the businesses, inviting them to attend the event. The email highlighted the City's interest in hearing directly from Camden business owners and provided key details such as the event's date, time, location, and purpose. Flyers in both English and Spanish were also shared to ensure accessibility for a diverse audience. The outreach emphasized the availability of free refreshments, snacks, and t-shirts for attendees, underscoring the City's commitment to creating a welcoming and engaging environment for participants. Free laptops were available to those businesses that could provide their New Jersey Business Registration; four laptops were distributed at the event.

Stakeholder Feedback

A total of 14 businesses attended the event (see Appendix A for a list of attendees). The Business Event Discussion Guide is provided in Appendix D.

Members of the project team led a facilitated discussion with attendee business owners and received the following feedback:

Why Camden?

The businesses owners who attended the event highlighted that businesses are attracted to Camden due to its location, UEZ tax breaks, the sense of pride and community in each neighborhood, and the growing renaissance/arts community. Several business owners are Camden natives who want to give back to the community and be part of the city's positive changes.

Familiarity with the UEZ

Of the 14 businesses represented by participants, only three were UEZ members. The remainder of the business owners attended to learn more about the program.

- Many were unaware of the UEZ or its benefits and assumed that being located within the UEZ boundary automatically made them members. Other businesses did not realize they needed to sign up to access benefits.
- Participants familiar with the program appreciate the sales tax benefits, which they believe encouraged spending in Camden.

Others had participated in the revitalization loan/grant program but noted that the process was complex and often required external assistance to complete.

UEZ Communications

There was agreement amongst attendees that the UEZ's communication with businesses is insufficient.

- Some businesses, even those long involved with the UEZ, reported never receiving any communication from the UEZ Coordinator.
- Others noted difficulty getting responses from the UEZ Coordinator and emphasized the need for more accessible and timely information.
- A suggestion was made for regular in-person sessions where business owners could learn about UEZ and other programs, as well as from each other's experiences.
- Business owners indicated a preference for communication via in-person meetings, emails, social media, and mailed newsletters.

Zoning and Transportation

Regarding zoning and transportation in Camden, business owners are concerned with:

- Vacant lots around their businesses, some of which have tax liens, hampering redevelopment.
- Mount Ephraim Avenue is dark and uninviting. This and other areas of the city need to be made safer and more inviting.
- Some roadways have not been repaired for 50 years. There are many potholes and trash in neighborhoods outside downtown Camden.
- Public transportation and parking are adequate within the downtown area, but not in other areas of the city.

Biggest Challenges for Camden Businesses

When asked about future challenges businesses in Camden will face over the next five years, attendees highlighted:

- Continued lack of support from the City, leaving small and micro businesses feeling unseen and unheard.
- Lack of job readiness skills.
- Lack of infrastructure improvements.
- Limited funding and challenges in effectively using available resources.
- Uncertainty about financial stability due to upcoming changes in administrations (City and federal).
- Gentrification.
- Ongoing issues with vacant lots.
- A lack of understanding of the needs of micro-businesses.
- Disproportionate investment in the waterfront area, leaving other parts of the city underserved.
- A lack of vision for businesses outside the waterfront area.
- City decisions that affect small and micro-businesses without seeking input from them.

Business Outreach Event attendees made several suggestions for improving the UEZ, including:

- Increasing Communication: Business owners requested more frequent communication from the UEZ Coordinator. They suggested the UEZ act as a conduit to keep businesses informed about local (city) events, like those on Market Street (e.g., 5K Runs), so they are not caught off-guard by road closures or other disruptions.
- Facilitating Communication between Businesses and the City: Businesses wanted more communication about on-going transportation projects. The Walter Rand Transportation Center redesign and the on-going Market Street transportation study include recommendations that conflict with each other, and neither of those projects are communicating with the businesses on Market Street.
- Improving Promotion of UEZ Businesses: There was a call for better and more regular promotion of UEZ businesses through social media, the UEZ website, and email newsletters. Increased visibility would help local businesses attract more customers and raise their profiles.
- Hiring More UEZ Staff to Improve Responsiveness: Participants called for additional staff within the UEZ to ensure quicker response times. More staff would improve service and communication for businesses seeking support.
- Creating a UEZ Business Board: Participants suggested creating a formal UEZ business board with official backing from the City. This board would provide small and micro-businesses a seat at the table, enabling them to provide input on programs and policies affecting Camden's business environment.
- Simplifying Access to Funding and Resources: Participants emphasized the difficulty of navigating the paperwork required for accessing funding and other resources. They suggested that the UEZ process and put measures in place to ensure businesses receive timely responses and support once they sign up.
- Providing Assistance and Training: There was a request for more assistance with loan applications, strategic planning, and other business services. Participants suggested the UEZ should partner with organizations like the Small Business Economic Development Center (SBEC) at Rutgers to provide businesses with expertise in areas like accounting, finance, and marketing.
- Including Small and Micro-Businesses in Decision-Making: It was recommended that small and micro-businesses be included in decision-making and planning processes to ensure recommendations reflect the needs and realities of Camden's diverse business community.
- Assessing and Revising UEZ and City Programs for Micro-Businesses: Current UEZ and City programs should be reassessed to ensure they support micro-businesses (those with one to five employees and $250,000 or less in annual revenue). Many micro-businesses do not currently meet the qualifications for some programs, and adjustments are needed to better serve them. A suggestion was made to include a micro-business loan program as part of the UEZ.
- Forming Business Improvement Districts: Participants recommended creating additional Business Improvement Districts (BIDs) in other neighborhoods or commercial districts outside of downtown Camden. These BIDs could partner with the CSSD to improve and enhance neighborhoods.

Social Media

Four social media posts were created to support outreach and engagement efforts for the UEZ Five-Year Strategic Plan (see Appendix E). For each post, a corresponding image and associated text were provided to the City. The posts included:

- A post announcing the business outreach event to inform businesses and encourage participation.
- A reminder post on the day of the business outreach event to drive attendance.
- A highlight post showcasing businesses interviewed during the in-person business interviews.
- A recap post highlighting the business outreach event after it concluded.

All posts were sent to the City for dissemination via city social media channels.

UEZ Communication Recommendations

Based on feedback received from stakeholders and business owners, the following are short-term and long-term actions that were recommended to improve communication with Camden businesses, including:

Short-Term Recommendations

- Update Current UEZ Website: The current Camden UEZ website should be updated to include:
 - o A map of the Camden UEZ boundary
 - A list of current UEZ programs and benefits
 - o Directions on how to become a member of the UEZ
 - A UEZ business directory
 - Relevant applications and other documents
 - A list of resources including banks, SEBC's, lawyers, and other resources that Camden businesses may need when considering applying for loan/programs
 - Announcements of on-going or upcoming UEZ events
 - Logos or advertisements for UEZ businesses
 - UEZ Member spotlights
 - UEZ Coordinator or other contact information business owners can use to call or email for assistance and information
 - Links to other City resources that may be beneficial for business owners
- Update UEZ Business Directory: Regularly update the UEZ Business Directory to ensure that business information is current and accurate, allowing for effective communication and outreach. The directory should be prominently linked or listed on the website and consistently featured in social media posts and other communications to maintain visibility and ensure businesses are properly contacted.

- O Develop "business highlights" for UEZ businesses: Collect a picture and a brief description of each business, including what it does and why people should visit or use their services. This information should be added to the business directory so potential customers can easily understand what each business offers. This content can also be used throughout the year for social media promotion.
- Increase Communication and Engagement with Camden Businesses: A common theme heard throughout the engagement process was the need for improved communication with/by the UEZ Program. Direct communication and regular outreach will help increase the number of businesses within the program and ensure businesses feel supported and involved in the program.
 - Engage with Camden businesses in person: Visit businesses in person or host more meetings or events for business owners to attend.
 - Engage with Camden businesses via email: Regularly communicate with Camden businesses through email, ensuring all business contact information is up-to-date. This could include sending e-blasts with important information (e.g., city events, road closures, area transportation projects/improvements) or a recurring newsletter that highlights important updates, City and UEZ resources/programs, new UEZ members, and upcoming opportunities for UEZ businesses.
 - Leverage existing relationships: Coordinate with neighborhood associations, (e.g., CSSD), churches, colleges/universities, and other groups to tap into their established connections with businesses, enhancing outreach and fostering stronger relationships.
 - Establish business ambassadors: Designate and identify ambassadors within the business community to help engage with businesses, host events, bring businesses together, and serve as liaisons to strengthen overall UEZ Program involvement.
 - O Hire more UEZ staff: Hire additional UEZ staff to ensure quicker response times and information sharing. More staff would improve service and communication for businesses seeking support. Additional UEZ staff could also assist with social media content, development and dissemination of e-blasts/newsletters, planning in-person events and meetings for business owners, etc.
 - Provide bilingual content: Provide Spanish and English translations of all information on the website, social media, emails, and other communications to ensure accessibility and inclusivity for all Camden businesses.
- Offer Direction with Financing Programs and Grant Applications: Facilitating access to and assistance in navigating financing programs and grant applications well-suited to the challenges faced by small and micro-businesses is an important step in fortifying the diversity and health of Camden's business community. Investigating a partnership with an organization such as the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at Rutgers University may be useful to this end, in addition to facilitating technical accounting and marketing training for Camden's small business owners.

- Increase Social Media Engagement: Effective social media engagement is crucial to ensure that the right audience sees and benefits from the UEZ Program's posts, fostering meaningful interactions and increasing visibility among key stakeholders and local businesses.
 - Connect all social media accounts directly to the Camden UEZ website: Currently, the social media links at the top and bottom of Camden's UEZ website redirect to the City's general accounts. These links should be updated to point to Camden UEZ's specific social media accounts.
 - Establish additional social media accounts: Set up new accounts on platforms such as X (formerly Twitter) and Instagram.
 - o Follow and encourage UEZ and Camden businesses to follow the UEZ Program on each social media platform: Connect with businesses in Camden by friending them on Facebook and following them on X (formerly Twitter) and Instagram. Coordinate with businesses to share and re-post each other's content.
 - o Follow and encourage others to follow the UEZ Program account on each social media platform: This includes non-profits, city agencies, stakeholders from our directory, and pages/accounts promoting travel, tourism, and destinations in New Jersey. This will help ensure that all posts are visible to a wider audience. Coordinate with these groups to share and re-post each other's content.
 - O Increase promotion of UEZ businesses: Expand marketing efforts to promote all UEZ businesses, highlighting their products, services, and contributions to the community, which will boost their visibility both locally and beyond. Social media posts can be developed using Business Highlight information described above.
 - o Increase business tagging in posts: Begin tagging businesses more frequently in posts.
 - Coordinate posts across all platforms to streamline content creation: By synchronizing posts on different social media platforms, you can avoid duplicating efforts. Additionally, the same content can be repurposed for other forms of communication, such as emails and flyers, maximizing reach and efficiency.
- Promote the "Buy Camden, Hire Camden" Initiative: Increase awareness and promote the "Buy Camden, Hire Camden" initiative among residents, schools, and families to encourage local spending and hiring, strengthening the community's support for Camden-based businesses.

Long-Term Recommendations

Create a Small Business Board: Establish a board of Camden UEZ businesses and City agencies to provide a dedicated space and time for businesses to regularly communicate with the program, centralize their needs and desires, and ensure alignment with the five-year strategic plan. This board would also serve as a key platform for the City to disseminate important information, such as infrastructure projects, changes, road closures, and other updates of which businesses in Camden may not currently be notified.

Economic Impacts from UEZ Program Investment

To better understand the economic impact of Camden UEZ investment, the following section presents the economic impacts of eight selected Camden UEZ programs.

UEZ Program Investment

In collaboration with the City of Camden's Economic Development Representative UEZ Coordinator, 4ward Planning identified UEZ projects implemented in 2023. Associated with each project is the number of UEZ businesses participating, the estimated number of direct jobs (where available), and UEZ funding.

As presented in Figure 35, in 2023, approximately $1.9 million dollars was invested in Camden UEZ funding through eight different programs, supporting over 600 jobs (created or retained). Five the programs are part of the City of Camden's "Camden Strong" initiative, which is aimed at curbing illegal dumping, improving community health, eliminating unsafe structures, bolstering public safety, and responding to other nuisance concerns impacting the Camden community.

An additional $433,000 in Camden UEZ funding was invested in other programs such as the Camden Shopping Spree ($18,000), workshops and information sessions ($15,000), and festival series funding ($400,000). These projects are omitted from further analysis, as they would require extensive surveys to enable economic impact modeling, which are beyond the scope of this analysis.

The following section presents the UEZ Program Investment listed in Figure 35 in more detail.

- MACRO Capital Improvement Program: The Camden Strong Macro Capital Improvement Program (CSMCI) offers Camden UEZ business owners access to a flexible source of capital that can be used in combination with more conventional sources, often as a bridge between the amount the borrower can obtain on the private market and the amount needed to start or sustain a business. The CSMCI program is a matching pool of money, using equity from acquisitions, machine, and/or equipment. In 2023, the CSMCI provided a total of $950,000 in capital to five Camden UEZ businesses, which leveraged a total of $2.8 million in capital dedicated to purchasing equipment or renovating buildings. These five businesses support an estimated 560 jobs.
- Clean Team: The Camden Strong Clean Team campaign is a series of neighborhood and cemetery cleanups aimed at enhancing the cleanliness and safety within UEZ corridors and improving the overall environment for businesses, residents, and visitors. In 2023, Camden UEZ invested $350,000 to support the Clean Team program, which employed 11 reentry individuals and Camden residents.
- Façade Program: This program aims to enhance the visual appeal and overall quality of businesses within the Camden area. Camden UEZ business owners can access a matching fund program for exterior improvements (windows, entranceways, building caps/cornices, awnings/overhangs, security, signs, storefronts/walls, or lighting) to commercial buildings within the boundaries of the City UEZ zone. In 2023, the Camden Strong Façade Program provided $300,000 in matching loans to 19 Camden UEZ businesses, also leveraging approximately $921,690 in additional American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funding administered by the U.S. Department of Treasury.
- Revolving Loan Fund (RLF): This gap financing tool is used for the development and expansion of small businesses and startup companies in the UEZ commercial corridors. In 2023, the Camden Strong RLF provided $200,000 in funding for operational or capital expenses to four Camden UEZ businesses (a restaurant, a catering business, a laundromat, and a janitorial business). These four businesses support an estimated 34 jobs.
- Cash-Back Initiative: This Open Rewards program allows customers to use a mobile app to earn a 50-percent cash-back reward by uploading a receipt of items or services purchased at any Camden UEZ businesses and then use the reward at another Camden UEZ businesses. According to the program dashboard, 412 customers participated in the program, and a total of 103 coupons were redeemed. The mobile phone app tracks the types of businesses at which customer participants shopped (e.g., food and drink establishments, groceries, etc.). In 2023, the total rewards distributed by the Camden UEZ program was approximately $14,480.
- Marketing Investments: In 2023, Camden UEZ invested a total of $37,000 in marketing investment through the Camden Strong Marketing Campaign Investments program (one digital billboard on I76, train platform signs, digital TV screens at PATCO train stations, and NJ Transit bus ads). Camden UEZ invested an additional $12,000 through the Every Door Direct Outreach program, which sent direct mailing of UEZ information to every door in the city of Camden.
- Placier.ai Technical Investment: Approximately $7,000 was invested to purchase a subscription to Placer.ai, a company that uses mobile phone data to track customer foot traffic and tourism within the UEZ zone. The dashboard provides valuable insights for strategic planning and marketing initiatives.

Economic Impact Analysis

An economic impact analysis is an assessment of change in overall economic activity in a given region as a result of change in one or several specific economic activities (e.g., new investment or spending). Using IMPLAN economic impact analysis software (a widely applied input-output (I-O) model and economic impact assessment software system) UEZ projects and associated funding were segmented by industry assisted within IMPLAN's 528 industries and modeled in 2023. The direct, indirect, and induced impacts focused on a series of economic multipliers (e.g., employment, labor income, value added, and economic output) to measure the amount of total economic activity generated by the project within the county during program implementation. 4ward Planning purchased 2023 IMPLAN data for Camden County, New Jersey (the latest year available). Dollars are provided in 2025 dollars. More detail on IMPLAN's I-O model and terminology is provided in the Appendix B.

As presented in Figure 35, the $1.9 million in Camden UEZ investment within these eight programs supported 614 jobs, and generated $1.6 million in labor income, $2.4 million in value added, and $4.0 million in output in 2023. As presented in Figure 36, combined with ARPA program funding (with an additional $921,690 leveraged in the Façade Program), the $2.8 million in Camden UEZ and ARPA investment supported 617 jobs, and generated $1.9 million in labor income, $2.8 million in value added, and $4.7 million in output in 2023.

Zoning and Transportation

Camden's Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) covers approximately 75 percent of the city's area (see map below). Areas excluded from the UEZ are mostly residential and are zoned as such. Camden is identified in the Camden County Comprehensive Plan as a "Metropolitan Core" and an "Innovation Hub." As such, the plan establishes a priority to support and promote the vitality and revitalization of Camden and leverage the synergy of educational, business, and institutional uses and regional attractions to spur a regional mixed-use hub in the city's downtown.

Land Use

The 2002 Camden Master Plan provides a Land Use Plan that is a long-term, generalized guide for future development. It presents a vision for steering change and future growth in the city by offering guidance for decisions on how land should be used by individual property owners, developers, as well as public and quasi-public agencies.

The Land Use Plan indicates that the most prevalent existing and planned land use in the UEZ is residential development, with medium-density residential development being most common. Commercial and industrial areas are concentrated along the waterfront, in downtown, and along major transportation corridors (see map on next page).

Camden's commercial corridors such as Broadway, Mount Ephraim Avenue, Haddon Avenue, and Federal Street provide valuable links between the downtown and surrounding neighborhoods and industrial areas. These corridors are generally well-served by transportation infrastructure and transit services.

Zoning

The Camden UEZ is comprised of multiple residential, commercial, and industrial zoning districts. In total, there are 20 zoning districts across the city, with most districts present within the UEZ. Commercial and industrial zones within the UEZ include the C-1, C-2, C-3, C-4, LI-1, LI-2, GI-1, GI-2, and CC zones. Mixeduse zones include the MW1, MW2, and TOD zones. The zones permit a wide range of uses, with few uses requiring conditional approval.

The commercial zones are scattered across the city and are aligned along major corridors such as Broadway, Mount Ephraim Avenue, Haddon Avenue, and Federal Street. While segments of Broadway are zoned Center City (CC) and C-1, much of Broadway is zoned residential and many of those residential zones are interspersed with small-scale commercial development.

Outside of the downtown, there are large areas of vacant land and many vacant parcels. This is most common in areas south of Dr. Martin Luther King Boulevard. The residential zoning along commercial corridors in this area prohibits commercial or mixed-use development that would be beneficial to the corridors.

Source: DVRCP Land Use, 2023

Section 870-230 of the zoning ordinance provides parking and loading requirements for all uses in the city. Parking space requirements are more typical of a suburban community than an urban center that is well served by multiple forms of transit and has on-street parking capacity. The construction of off-street parking adds considerable cost to a development and displaces land that could be occupied by a building or open space with surface parking. An analysis of downtown parking conducted by Camden County and Rowan University for the Downtown Camden Master Plan found that a substantial amount of property in downtown Camden is used for parking lots. Across a core area of the downtown, more than 150 acres are devoted to parking uses.

The parking regulations of the zoning ordinance provide relief from strict compliance with the parking standards, but this relief is at the discretion of the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Adjustments. Shared parking is permitted, which may reduce the amount of on-street parking required for a combination of uses. A parking reduction of up to 20 percent may also be granted based upon the incorporation of a transit stop on or adjacent to the development site; however, no such reduction is provided to projects within walking distance of an existing transit stop. While these provisions allow for a potential parking reduction, applicants are not guaranteed that a reduction will be granted.

Zoning Recommendations

The following are recommended to support redevelopment and infill in Camden's UEZ:

- Expand the C-1 Zone Along Broadway: Expand the C-1 zone along Broadway, extending from the existing zone at Walnut Street to the Center City zone at Pine Street.
- Expand the C-1 Zone Along Mount Ephrain Avenue: Expand the C-1 zone along Mount Ephrain Avenue, between Whitman Avenue and Atlantic Avenue.
- Consider Reducing Off-Street Parking Requirement: The City should consider reducing its offstreet parking requirement for all uses within the UEZ, with emphasis on commercial uses. We recommend a 20 percent reduction.
- Include a Transit Station Reduction: The City should include a transit station reduction of 20 percent for properties located within a one-half mile walking distance of a light rail or commuter rail station, including both PATCO and River LINE stations and future stations on the planned Glassboro-Camden Line.
- Maintain Existing Transit Stop Reduction: The City should maintain the existing 20 percent transit stop reduction on top of the 20 percent reduction recommended in the UEZ.

Transportation

Camden is served by a robust transit network centered around the Walter Rand Transportation Center (WRTC), which is an important multimodal transit hub connecting the New Jersey Transit (NJT) River LINE, NJT bus lines, and the PATCO High-Speed Line, which connects downtown Camden to Philadelphia. The River Link Ferry, which is within walking distance of the WRTC provides service from Camden's waterfront to Philadelphia. Additionally, institutions, such as Rutgers University, offer shuttle services for students, faculty, and staff, further strengthening downtown Camden's transit network.

Transportation infrastructure in Camden is comprised of four basic components, which include:

- Municipal streets on a grid system.
- Highway systems of Interstate 676, U.S. Route 30, U.S. Route 130, and county streets that provide connections to and from the Benjamin Franklin and Walt Whitman Bridges. While providing for the distribution of traffic, these highways also interrupt the street grid and impose physical barriers to local traffic including bicyclists and pedestrians.
- A transit system consisting of the PATCO High Speed Line, which has three stations in Camden; the NJT River LINE, which has five stations in Camden; and 26 NJT bus routes with hundreds of locations serviced across the city.
- Bicycle and pedestrian infrastructure including sidewalks, bike lanes, and shared-use pathways.

In total, Camden has approximately 200 miles of streets and highways (as measured along the centerline of those roads), but only seven miles of on-street bicycle lanes and six miles of shared-use pathways.

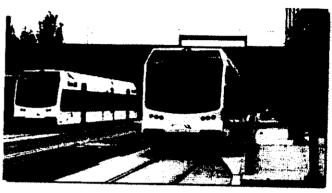

Transit

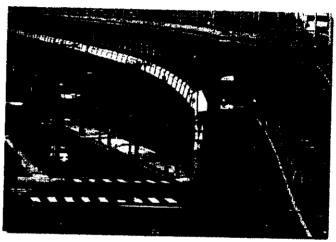

As noted, Camden is served by NJT bus service, which has 26 bus routes in the city providing service across the city and to adjacent cities and towns and throughout the region. Intercity bus service is provided through private carriers from the WRTC.

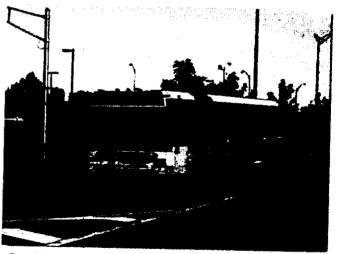

Camden's transit services and network also include the PATCO High Speed Line, a 14.2-mile commuter rail line that provides service between Center City Philadelphia and Lindenwold, New Jersey. The line has three stops in Camden (City Hall, WRTC, and Ferry Avenue). The NJT River LINE is a 34-mile light-rail line that provides service between Trenton and Camden with four stops in Camden (WRTC, Cooper St/Rutgers, Aquarium, and Entertainment Center). See map on following page.

NJT provides multiple fixed-route bus services from all areas of southern New Jersey; these routes run along the primary regional roadways into the city. They connect Camden to the suburban communities north, east, and south of the city and to Philadelphia to the west.

Additionally, the River Link, operated by the Delaware River Waterfront Corporation, provides ferry service across the Delaware River, connecting Camden to Philadelphia. It provides daily service throughout the year.

The PATCO and River LINE trains meet at the WRTC. In addition to accommodating those services, the Center acts as a hub for NJT buses and intercity bus carriers. The WRTC is aging; reconstruction of the center to better meet transit needs and accommodate the planned Glassboro-Camden Line has been funded and is in design.

Roadway and Highway Infrastructure

As noted, Camden has extensive roadway and highway infrastructure. This includes I-76, a limited access highway which crosses along the southern edge of the city and over the Walt Whitman Bridge to Philadelphia. While it is a limited access highway oriented in a north and south direction, I-76 intersects with I-676 near the main branch Newton Creek, and 1-676 interchanges at Morgan Boulevard, Atlantic Avenue, and in the city's Central Business District. These highways are maintained by the New Jersey Department Transportation (NJDOT).

The city is also home to multiple U.S. routes and state highways maintained by NJDOT. These include U.S. Route 30, U.S. Route 130, and limited segments of N.J. Route 42 and

Top: Walter Rand Transportation Center, Source: Wikipedia Bottom: Recent 7th Street Streetscape Improvements, Source: Google Earth

N.J. Route 168. Camden County maintains several roadways including but not limited to Federal Street, Westfield Avenue, Haddon Avenue, Mount Ephraim Avenue, Kaighns Avenue, Ferry Avenue, and Broadway. The balance of roadways in Camden are maintained by the City. The condition of roadways, including pavement conditions, curbs, drainage infrastructure, lighting, and pedestrian facilities varies significantly across the UEZ.

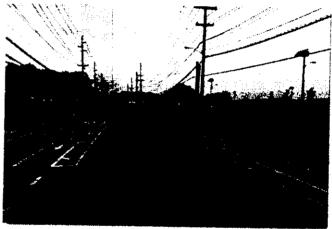

Bicycle Facilities

Camden has a limited network of on-street bicycle facilities. Most bicycle facilities in the city are comprised of off-street pathways and greenways such as the Camden River Greenway, Circuit Trail, and the Cooper River Trail. Additionally, the East Coast Greenway has a route through Camden connecting 36th Street and points north through Cramer Hill Waterfront Park to the Ben Franklin Bridge and Philadelphia.

One of the few on-street bicycle facilities in the city is a segment of the East Coast Greenway on Harrison Avenue and State Street, where bicycle lanes are provided on the street as part of the East Coast Greenway route.

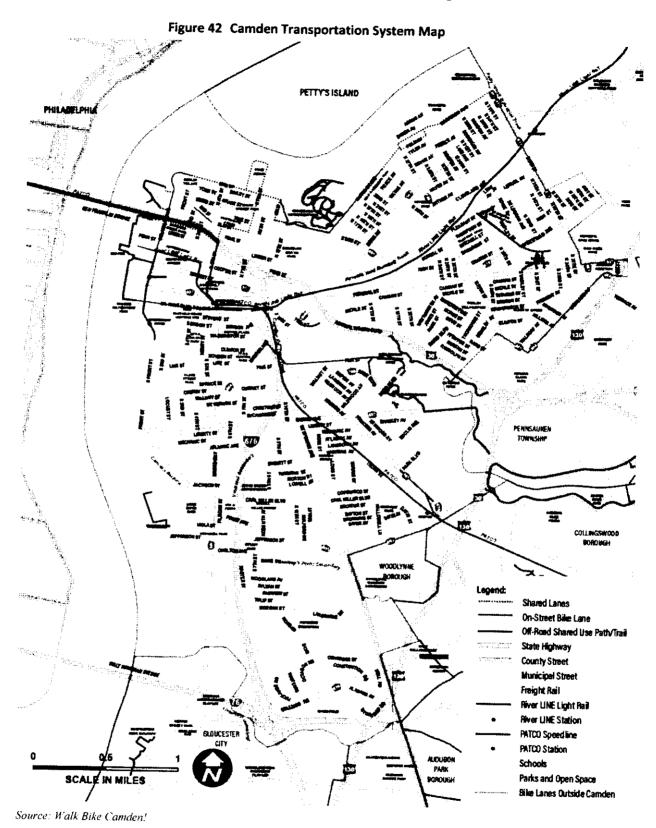

There is a lack of bicycle racks or other forms of secure bicycle parking throughout the downtown and along commercial corridors in the UEZ - most notably at the WRTC, where bikes are often secured to fences and railings.

Sidewalk Conditions

While most streets have sidewalks on both sides of the street, sidewalk conditions vary across the city, with many areas that lack sidewalks or have sidewalks in poor condition, including segments of Broadway. Additionally, most intersections in Camden lack crosswalk markings or have faded markings. There are also relatively few curb ramps that fully comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Crosswalks are spaced over 1,000 feet apart on multiple corridors, which result in frequent pedestrian crossings outside of marked crosswalks (see map below).

Planned Transportation Projects

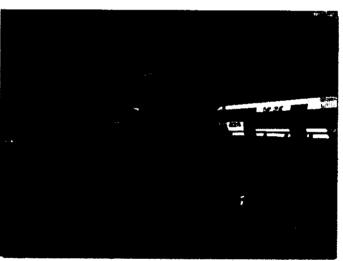

Market Street and Federal Street Concept Development Project

The Market Street and Federal Street Concept Development Project explored the conversion of these streets to two-way operation, including the provision of bicycle facilities. This project was sponsored by the Camden Community Partnership and was last presented to the public in February of 2022. No action on the project's recommendations has since been taken.

Most of the city's streets are comprised of two-way traffic; this includes most streets in the downtown except for Federal and Market Streets, which comprise a one-way pair, with Market Street carrying westbound traffic and Federal Street carrying eastbound traffic. Research has shown that one-way streets are less conducive to economic development, particularly for retail and service-based businesses, due to access limitations associated with one-way travel and higher speed traffic than two-way roadways. The conversion to two-way operation would, therefore, be potentially beneficial to businesses located on those streets and may encourage additional economic development along those corridors.

Glassboro-Camden Line

The Glassboro-Camden Line (GCL) is a proposed 18-mile passenger rail line restoring passenger rail service along the existing rail corridor between Glassboro and Camden. Travel time between the cities is expected to be 37 minutes, and stations would be provided in Pitman, Sewell, Mantua Township, Deptford Township, Woodbury Heights, Woodbury, Westville, Brooklawn, and Gloucester City, in addition to Glassboro and Camden. The proposed service will use light-rail vehicle technology and will provide a connection to PATCO, thereby connecting passengers to Center City Philadelphia with connections to the

Rendering of Planned South Camden Station, Source: GCL

SEPTA Regional Rail system, trolley network, Market-Frankford and Broad Street lines, Amtrak at 30th Street Station, and the Philadelphia International Airport.

Three stations are proposed for Camden including the existing WRTC, Landing Square Station between Haddon Avenue and Pine Street, and South Camden Station between Carl Miller Boulevard and Ferry Avenue.

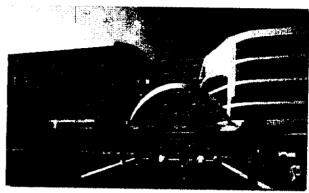

The project is currently in the preliminary engineering phase. Following this phase, a two- to three-year design-bid-build process including final design, vehicle procurement, and construction is expected. Passenger rail service for the GCL is estimated to begin in 2028.

Walter Rand Transportation Center Project

The NJT Walter Rand Transportation Center (WRTC) Improvement Project, which is currently in the preliminary engineering phase, is a $250-million project announced in 2021. The project would transform the current facility into a modern, vibrant, and customer-focused transit hub and would be fully accessible and compliant with the ADA. As of January of 2025, a 25-story building including one-half million square feet of office space for public and private entities has been proposed adjoining the WRTC site.

Haddon Avenue Improvement Project

Camden County is currently conducting engineering and design for transportation improvements to Haddon Avenue between Euclid and Newton Avenues. The project is part of a multiphase plan to upgrade Haddon Avenue. Improvements have been completed on Haddon Avenue in the vicinity of Cooper University Hospital and Our Lady of Lourdes Medical Center. Construction of the corridor improvements between these facilities is expected to begin in 2025.

Transportation Recommendations

Camden's greatest transportation resource is its robust transit system. To fully leverage that system in support of economic development, the City must ensure that transit stations and stops are inviting, safe, and accessible to pedestrians, bicyclists, and those with mobility limitations. As an urban center, Camden's emphasis should be on providing a walkable city that offers a range of transportation options. While motor vehicle traffic is important to the city's function, a robust multi-modal transportation system will be most supportive of economic development in Camden and in its UEZ.

With a focus on improvements that will be most beneficial to businesses in the Camden UEZ, we recommend the following transportation improvements:

- WRTC Improvement Project: The City should fully support implementation of the WRTC Improvement Project and related co-developments.
- Glassboro-Camden Line: The City should fully support implementation of the Glassboro-Camden Line and provide necessary infrastructure improvements in planned station areas with emphasis on pedestrian and bicycle facility enhancements.
- Bus Stop Enhancements: The City should enhance bus stops along commercial corridors in the UEZ with better lighting, signage, route information, shelters, and security measures.

- Sidewalk and Roadway Crossing Enhancements: The City should improve sidewalks and pedestrian roadway crossings with emphasis on commercial corridors within the UEZ, with priority given to segments that lack sidewalks on both or one side of the roadway.
- Improve and Expand Bicycle Facilities: The City should improve and expand bicycle facilities as recommended by the 2022 Walk & Bike Camden! Plan. Bicycling is a form of transportation used by workers to commute to work and by patrons of establishments for travel to those establishments. The improvement of conditions for bicyclists by expanding the bicycle facility network, both on- and off-street, will be beneficial to businesses in the UEZ.
- Market Street and Federal Street Conversion: The City should support and facilitate the conversion of Market Street and Federal Street to two-way traffic as a means of calming traffic, improving business access and visibility, and improving conditions for pedestrians and bicyclists.
- Improve Lighting and Wayfinding: The City should assess lighting conditions along public streets in the UEZ, with an emphasis on commercial areas. Based upon the findings of an assessment, the City should upgrade lighting as needed to improve security and perception of safety in the UEZ.
 The City should also improve wayfinding across the UEZ, building upon successful examples downtown. Emphasis should be placed on upgrading and installing wayfinding signage in proximity of rail stations.
- Improve Roadway Maintenance: The City should conduct a roadway pavement condition survey of roadways across the city. A pavement restoration schedule and capital funding to support pavement restoration should be developed, with priority given to arterial and collector streets in the UEZ that have poor pavement conditions.
- Continue Improvements to Commercial Corridors: The City should continue collaboration with the County and State to improve its commercial corridors consistent with improvements currently underway and planned for Haddon Avenue.

ECONOMIC IMPACT ANALYSIS

An economic impact analysis involves applying a final demand change to a predictive economic inputoutput model and then analyzing the resulting changes in the economy under study. More concisely, an impact analysis is an assessment of change in overall economic activity as a result of change in one or several specific economic activities (e.g., new construction investment or spending).

Input-Output Impact Modeling

IMPLAN is an input-output (I-O) software program designed to predict the ripple effect of an economic activity by using data about previous spending in a given regional economy (e.g., Camden County, New Jersey). The model uses annual, regional data to map these buy-sell relationships in a series of economic multipliers (e.g., employment, labor income, value added, and output), so users can predict how a specific economic event (e.g., new construction investment) will impact a given economy.

Inputs1

The foundational concept is that all industries, households, and government in the economy are connected through buy-sell relationships, therefore a given economic activity supports a ripple of additional economic activity throughout the economy. Based on IMPLAN's multipliers, a user can estimate an event's direct, indirect, and induced impacts.

	_	- Maria in Mill Edit Model Fliects
Effects		Description
Direct	=	Expenditures or Spending: Production change associated with a change in demand for the good itself.
Indirect	=	Supply Chain Spending : The impact of local industries buying goods and services from other local industries (e.g. intermediate expenditures).
Induced	=	Household Spending: Changes in household spending due to the additional employment generated by direct and indirect effects.

Source: IMPLAN

¹ Intermediate inputs are purchases of non-durable goods and services such as energy, materials, and purchased services that are used to produce other goods and services, rather than for final consumption.

IF YOU WRITE, ATTACH THE STUB AT THE END OF THIS NOTICE.

WE ASSIGNED YOU AN EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

Thank you for applying for an Employer Identification Number (EIN). We assigned you EIN 92-0646650. This EIN will identify you, your business accounts, tax returns, and documents, even if you have no employees. Please keep this notice in your permanent records.

Taxpayers request an EIN for their business. Some taxpayers receive CP575 notices when another person has stolen their identity and are opening a business using their information. If you did not apply for this EIN, please contact us at the phone number or address listed on the top of this notice.

When filing tax documents, making payments, or replying to any related correspondence, it is very important that you use your EIN and complete name and address exactly as shown above. Any variation may cause a delay in processing, result in incorrect information in your account, or even cause you to be assigned more than one EIN. If the information is not correct as shown above, please make the correction using the attached tear-off stub and return it to us.

Based on the information received from you or your representative, you must file the following forms by the dates shown.

Form 1065

03/15/2023

If you have questions about the forms or the due dates shown, you can call us at the phone number or write to us at the address shown at the top of this notice. If you need help in determining your annual accounting period (tax year), see Publication 538, Accounting Periods and Methods.

We assigned you a tax classification (corporation, partnership, estate, trust, EPMF, etc.) based on information obtained from you or your representative. It is not a legal determination of your tax classification, and is not binding on the IRS. If you want a legal determination of your tax classification, you may request a private letter ruling from the IRS under the guidelines in Revenue Procedure 2020-1, 2020-1 I.R.B. 1 (or superseding Revenue Procedure for the year at issue). Note: Certain tax classification elections can be requested by filing Form 8832, Entity Classification Election.

See Form 8832 and its instructions for additional information.

A limited liability company (LLC) may file Form 8832, Entity Classification Election, and elect to be classified as an association taxable as a corporation. If the LLC is eligible to be treated as a corporation that meets certain tests and it will be electing S corporation status, it must timely file Form 2553, Election by a Small Business Corporation. The LLC will be treated as a corporation as of the effective date of the S corporation election and does not need to file Form 8832.

Project Narrative - FY 2025 Transportation Alternatives Set-Aside Grant

Project Title: Elm Street Streetscape, Bikeway, and Pedestrian Safety Improvements Project Location: Elm Street, from North 4th Street to North 10th Street, Camden City, Camden County, NJ

Project Summary

The City of Camden is requesting funding through the FY 2025 Transportation Alternatives Set-Aside Program to revitalize the Elm Street corridor by implementing comprehensive multimodal streetscape and safety improvements. The proposed project will make the area more accessible, sustainable, and pedestrian- and bike-friendly corridor through the reconstruction of sidewalks, installation of dedicated bike lanes, enhanced lighting, ADA upgrades, and aesthetic landscaping.

These improvements align directly with several categories of eligibility identified in the 2025 TA Set-Aside Handbook, including:

- Design and construction of pedestrian and bicycle infrastructure (sidewalks, bike lanes, ADA curb ramps)
- Community improvement activities (streetscaping and corridor landscaping)
- Environmental mitigation related to stormwater control via green infrastructure

Project Scope

The Elm Street project includes significant infrastructure upgrades, with the following improvements:

- Roadway narrowing and curb bumpouts to calm traffic and improve pedestrian safety at intersections
- Dedicated bike lanes with long-life thermoplastic striping and symbols to support nonvehicular travel
- Sidewalk reconstruction including over 6,000 square yards of new concrete sidewalk and 1,000 square yards of decorative brick pavers
- ADA-compliant curb ramps and detectable warning surfaces
- Lighting improvements with new foundations and conduit for pedestrian lighting
- Landscaped center medians and curb strips
- Drainage improvements and green infrastructure measures to manage stormwater runoff sustainably

Project Benefits

The project enhances safety, accessibility, and aesthetics while encouraging active transportation modes. It directly supports the TA Set-Aside program's objective to improve the quality of life through surface transportation improvements by:

- Reducing pedestrian crossing distances and vehicular speeds via curb bumpouts
- Encouraging biking and walking through protected infrastructure
- Improving environmental resilience through green stormwater features
- Enhancing the public realm with coordinated lighting, signage, and landscaping

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

TITLE OF ORDINANCE/RESOLUTION

Resolution Authorizing an Amendment #1 to the Shared Services Agreement Between the City of Camden and the Camden Redevelopment Agency ("CRA") for the Brownfield Cleanup and Management of Funding for the Elijah Perry Park (Block 544, Lot 1)

FACTS/BACKGROUND: (Executive level details. Short concise bullets)

- The City by Resolution MC-22:8652, adopted by Camden City Council on October 11, 2022 and CRA by Resolution # 09-14-22A, authorized the execution of a Shared Services Agreement with the CRA to secure funds necessary for the remediation and environmental services for the cleanup of the Elijah Perry Park Site and for management of the environmental funding. The Elijah Perry Park is in title to the City and is designated as Block 544, Lot 1 of the City of Camden Tax Map.
- It is necessary to extend the term of the Shared Services Agreement for 2 years to allow the use, and CRA's management of the brownfield funding, and implementation of the NJDEP and USEPA Subgrants and any additional funding for the Project Site's environmental assessment, investigation, and remediation. The term of the extension is the earlier of September 30, 2027 or completion of the Project, as determined by NJDEP Technical Requirements for site remediation (N.J.A.C. 7:26E).

AMOUNT OF PROPOSED CONTRACT or TOTAL COST OF PROPOSAL: Est. $2,451,054.00

IMPACT STATEMENT:

- Environmental assessments conducted at the site indicate the presence of historic fill material across the site requiring remediation. Remedial activities will involve soil removal/disposal of contaminated soil materials and engineering controls (comprised of clean soil cap, hardscape surface cap, and fencing). The Camden Community Partnership will be contracting for the construction of the Park improvements. For the remediation the HDSRF and USEPA match funding requirements have been met.
- CRA secured a total of $1.1 million in brownfield grants for remediation of the Elijah Perry Park (Phase #1 and #2) from the NJDEP Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) and USEPA.
- It is necessary to extend the term of the Agreement with the City for two additional years. In the event the Shared Services Agreement is not extended, the city will have to secure the estimated remediation costs for the Park's environmental cleanup.

This form must be filled out in its entirety and is intended to provide the Division with appropriate information to determine whether to approve a new or extended service. Please provide any additional information you believe will help the Division make an informed decision.

PLEASE EXPLAIN THE JUSTIFICATION FOR THE GRANT. PLEASE FULLY EXPLAIN COST ASSOCIATED WITH THE AWARD OF THE GRANT AS WELL AS ANY MATCHING FUNDS OR EMPLOYMENT OBLIGATIONS AS A TERM OF THE GRANT. PLEASE EXPLAIN THE BENEFITS OF THE GRANT OF THE MUNICIPALITY AND THE RESIDENTS. ATTACH THE GRANT APPLICATION AND GRANT AWARD LETTER.

Resolution Authorizing a Subgrant to the City of Camden in an Amount of up to $139,104.00 from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency Brownfields Revolving Loan Fund for the Environmental Remediation of the Elijah Perry Park Owned by the City of Camden and Designated as Block 544, Lot 1 of the City of Camden Tax Map

- In 2013, CRA, with a grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), established a Brownfields Revolving Loan Fund (RLF) to make loans and subgrants to fund environmental cleanup of brownfield sites in Camden.
- EPA RLF program guidelines allow CRA to make subgrants to non-profits and other units of local government for eligible projects and uses, CRA is administrator of the City's Brownfield Program.
- The Elijah Perry Park Site is a City owned Park that is designated on the City of Camden Tax Map as Block 544, Lot 1 and located in the Centerville Redevelopment Area.
- Environmental assessment activities conducted at the Park Site indicate the presence of historic fill material requiring remediation.
- After site remediation is completed, construction of park improvements will be conducted. Funds for the Park improvements are in place.
- Project costs for removal of the contaminated soil material and for capping the site are estimated to be $1,091,266.00 with actual costs to be determined upon acceptance of the lowest qualified bidder for the project.
- The EPA subgrant amount being requested is the maximum amount of funding that remains to be used for EPA subgrants on the current CRA EPA 2013 RLF Cooperative Agreement. This $139,104.00 will be used to advance the project until other funding is secured and authorized from the state and federal sources.
- CRA has applied for and has been awarded a State Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) grant from the NJDEP in the amount of $799,700.00 for environmental clean-up of the Park. A subsequent action by the CRA board will be taken in October to for a RLF "bridge" loan.
 Previously, CRA has used RLF loans to bridge HDSRF funds to assure timely payments to contractors because of the undue length of time the state takes to disburse HDSRF funds.
- CRA by Resolution 06-08-22C authorized acceptance of an EPA RLF Brownfields Supplemental Grant award to the CRA for $3.5 million. Upon receipt of the Cooperative Agreement from EPA, anticipated to be in place October 1, 2022, a second subgrant proposal for the Park will be presented to the Board, which will complete the overall funding sources needed for the remediation effort.
- CRA, as the administrator of the City's Brownfield Program, will also manage the EPA RLF subgrant and environmental services necessary for remediation at the Elijah Perry Park site. Authorization to enter into a Shared Services Agreement with the City for these purposes was presented at the September meeting as a Companion Resolution.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

TITLE OF ORDINANCE/RESOLUTION

Resolution Authorizing an Amendment #1 to the Shared Services Agreement Between the City of Camden and the Camden Redevelopment Agency ("CRA") for the Brownfield Cleanup and Management of Funding for the North Camden Waterfront Park (Sadler's Poynt Park

FACTS/BACKGROUND: (Executive level details. Short concise bullets)

- The City by Resolution Mc-23:8795 adopted by Camden City Council on January 10, 2023 and CRA by Resolution 01-11-23B, authorized the execution of a Shared Services Agreement with the CRA for management of environmental funding for the North Camden Waterfront Park also known as "Sadler's Poynt Park" (consisting of Block 4, Lot 64; Block 746, Lots 18, 18.01 and 32; Block 747, p/o Lot 1 of the City of Camden Tax Map.
- It is necessary to extend the term of the Shared Services Agreement for 3 years to allow the use, and CRA's management of the brownfield funding, and implementation of the NJDEP and USEPA Subgrant and any additional funding for the Project Site's environmental assessment, investigation, and remediation. The term of the extension is the earlier of September 30, 2028 or completion of the Project, as determined by NJDEP Technical Requirements for site remediation (N.J.A.C. 7:26E).

AMOUNT OF PROPOSED CONTRACT or TOTAL COST OF PROPOSAL: Est. $2,451,054.00

IMPACT STATEMENT:

- Environmental assessments conducted at the site indicate the presence of historic fill material across the site requiring remediation. Remedial activities will involve soil removal/disposal of contaminated soil materials and engineering controls (comprised of clean soil cap, hardscape surface cap, and fencing) will be constructed at the Park. The City of Camden will be contracting for and conducting the remediation and Park construction effort. NJDOT funds will serve to meet the HDRSF match funding requirement.
- CRA secured a $1,800,791.00 grant from State Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) and will provide a $50,000.00 U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (US EPA) grant for remediation of the park. An estimate of the cost for addressing the historic fill contamination is $2,451,054.00 with actual costs to be determined on acceptance of the lowest qualified bid for the remedial work at the project site.
- It is necessary to extend the term of the Agreement with the City for three additional years. If Shared Services Agreement is not extended, the city will have to secure the estimated $2.5 million for cleanup.

Re:

Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) Application ...

Applicant: Site Name: Camden Redevelopment Agency North Camden Waterfront Park

North 6th and Erie Street

NJDEP PI ID 623803

Dear Mr. Harveson:

The New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection (Department) has completed a review of the funding request through the Hazardous Discharge Site Remediation Fund (HDSRF) for a Brownfield Development Area (BDA) grant in the amount of $1.800,790.13. This amount represents 75% of the costs of the remedial action (RA) activities proposed for the site. The Department has found the proposal to be technically eligible for funding.

Therefore, the Department is recommending the New Jersey Economic Development Authority (NJEDA) obligate a grant in the amount of $1,800,790.13 for the project. The Department is not recommending disbursement of the funds at this time.

The Department's recommendation for the award of a grant from the HDSRF, and its determination that certain remediation costs are eligible for grant funding, is subject to the review and approval of the NJEDA, which, if in agreement with the Department's recommendation, will forward the recommendation to its Board for consideration. Any award by the NJEDA's Board is subject to a ten-day gubernatorial veto period and the appropriation of money to the Fund in an amount adequate to pay the grant. Any grant awarded from the HDSRF is to cover remediation costs for the calendar year covered by the application. An applicant seeking a grant to cover remediation costs for subsequent calendar years must re-apply to the HDSRF. There is no guarantee of any funding in this year or future years.

If you have any questions regarding this letter, please feel free to contact Michael Deely at 609-633-1332.

Sincerely,

William J. Lindner, Brownfield Manager . Office of Brownfields Reuse

City of Camden Business Growth Development Committee Proposal for Haddon, Princess & Walnut Street Redevelopment Project

Parkside Business & Community In Partnership, Inc. (PBCIP) is poised to support transformation of the Haddon Avenue corridor through a comprehensive homeownership project aimed at revitalizing vacant lots, revitalizing existing residential structures and fostering sustainable growth at the Haddon, Princess and Walnut Street intersection. The project, in close proximity to the future Corielle Institute headquarter building, embodies a commitment to catalyzing economic development, eradicating blight while also enhancing the quality of life for Camden residents. The project will be carried out in two (2) phases and is neighboring to the Haddon Avenue corridor, which is set for a $15 million infrastructure and roadway upgrade beginning summer 2024. Infrastructure enhancement along Haddon is anticipated to elevate the area's visual charm and stimulate additional economic investment needed to support a range of housing choices for residents across different income brackets, from moderate to market-rate households.

New homes for-sale is (one of) the single most important pathways to equity and prosperity in the city of Camden. With the development of quality, for-sale affordable housing, for families ranging from 51-120% of the area median income, a new pathway will be charted for families to ensure:

- 1) wealth building
- 2) increased homeownership rate
- 3) more job opportunities for the local community
- 4) healthier population which means a healthier economy (lower health care costs)

PBCIP is presenting this proposal for assistance in acquiring publicly held and vacant sites essential for advancing the project. A document has been attached outlining the property lists for Phase I and Phase II. Phase I primarily includes publicly held lots, alongside privately and publicly held lots identified for acquisition in readiness for Phase 2. Donovan Architects have been engaged to develop the initial site plan and conduct a feasibility analysis for the Phase I and II project. Documentation specifying the number of units to be accommodated within the Phase I and II project's parameters has been provided.

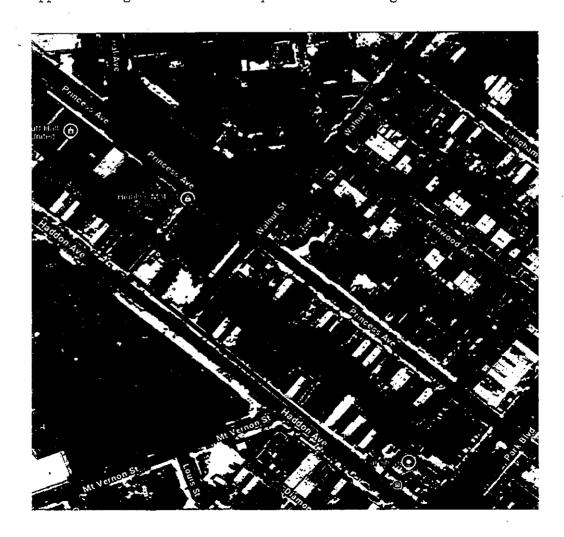

This new homes project sits in alignment with the goals and objectives outlined in the Camden County Haddon Avenue Corridor Redevelopment Plan from June 2020. Development of the site will fulfill crucial objectives as noted in the Haddon Corridor Redevelopment Plan: First, it will enable the redevelopment of underutilized properties, thereby generating tax ratables for the City and contributing to its economic vitality. Secondly, it will promote the development of residential units at an appropriate density, addressing housing needs while ensuring sustainable growth. Moreover, this built environment project will enhance the aesthetic appeal of the gateway into Downtown Camden via Haddon Avenue. By encouraging the use of enhanced architectural design and building elements, it will elevate the cityscape and create a more inviting environment for residents and visitors alike. The project will facilitate the provision of a diverse range of housing options, catering to residents of various income levels and promoting socio-economic inclusivity. Furthermore, it will prioritize development alternatives that respect the historic structures, land uses, and building materials unique to the City of Camden, ensuring that the project aligns with the community's heritage and character while fostering modernization and progress.

With the city's support, the following development timeline is expected to further ensue.

Housing Preservation

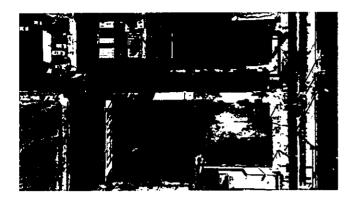

Securing additional investment for preservation of existing residential structures is just as crucial as new home development at the proposed project site. Preservation will be instrumental in reshaping the aesthetics of the surrounding two-block radius. It will also serve as a cornerstone in uplifting community character, environmental sustainability, altering neighborhood aesthetics and neighborhood stability. This commitment ensures that development respects the residents who have owned and lived in many of the properties for over 20 years. It also supports the neighborhood's aim for equitable and inclusive growth and transformation.
